BABE RUTH AGAIN COLLAPSES!

BALL PLAYER'S CONDITION IS ALARMING DOCTORS

Swat King To Receive Hospital Treatment; Wife With Him

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, April 9.—"Babe" Ruth, champion home-run slugger, probably will play in the opening game of the American league season next Tuesday, Dr. Edward L. King, physician for the New York Yankees, stated this afternoon following a thorough examination of the baseball star.

Dr. King said Ruth was not in a serious condition but that he had a slight attack of the flu. With careful medical attention and proper dieting, the physician said Ruth would be able to take his place in the initial game with the Washington club next week.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Babe Ruth, famous slugger, collapsed upon his arrival here this afternoon from Asheville, N. C., where he became suddenly ill Tuesday afternoon from indigestion and a possible touch of influenza.

Ruth fell into a faint in the wash room of the Pennsylvania station, where he went after his train arrived here at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon. Friends immediately summoned Dr. James Murphy, Pennsylvania station room doctor. He immediately began work over the ballplayer.

Mrs. Ruth was alarmed. She came to the depot to meet her husband after hearing of his illness and even more alarming rumors early today.

After working over Ruth for a few minutes, Dr. Murphy suggested that Ruth be carried back to his berth. This was done, the doctor said, to enable him to rest. When he felt a little better the doctor said, he would be taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

Immediately upon Ruth's arrival at the hospital, Dr. King, Ruth's personal physician, and Dr. John Harrison of the hospital staff, went into consultation and announced that a bulletin on Ruth's condition would be issued at 4 o'clock. Meanwhile Ruth was being made as comfortable as possible in his room. He still was in a semi-conscious condition and reporters were not allowed to see him.

Mrs. Ruth had come to the depot at the request of the noted slugger. Ruth had sent her a telegram, which read:

"Meet me. The report that I am dead is a lie. Love."

REIGN OF TERROR IN DEATH PROBE

Threats Follow Investigation Of Murder of War Veteran

BOSTON, April 9.—The probe of the mysterious death of Alexander Buchanan, Canadian war veteran, whose body, with a gas mask over the head, was found near the McLean hospital in Waverly, took a sensational turn this afternoon when a death threat was received by a hospital official. A veritable reign of terror was started, with girl nurses refusing to leave the hospital except in groups.

Requires Six Men to Hold Slugger King

. NEW YORK, April 9.—Babe Ruth, "home run king," suffered three convulsions this afternoon in the Pennsylvania depot upon his arrival from Asheville, N. C., where he collapsed on Tuesday. He was finally removed to St. Vincent's hospital.

Upon arriving here the famous slugger went into the wash room, where he fell into a faint.

A short time later, while lying upon a wheel chair waiting for an ambulance he had three convulsions, and it required six men to hold him. When he was taken away in the ambulance he was in a semi-conscious condition, his eyes glassy and apparently unseeing.

"Ruth suffered a slight concussion of the brain when he fell on the wash room floor," Dr. James Murphy, Pennsylvania station physician, said after examining the ball player. "It is hard to say whether it was a concussion or a fracture, but I believe it was a concussion."

GAS TAX BILL TO COME UP NEXT WEEK

Senator Breed Confident His Measure Will Carry In Both Houses

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Victorious in his fight to have the bill reported out by the Senate revenue and taxation committee, Senator Arthur H. Breed, sponsor of the 3-cent gasoline tax, announced today that the highway financing measure will be brought up for action in the Senate as quickly as legislative procedure permits, which will probably be the fore part of next week.

The Piedmont solon claims to have twenty-one votes pledged for the bill when it reaches the Senate and is confident that the act will pass both houses.

Drive Is Planned

During the interim, Senator Breed plans to place the proposition on the defensive by a drive for committee approval of his bill, declaring the oil companies public utilities and placing them under the supervision of the State Railroad commission.

This phase of the legislative war will open tonight at a public hearing before the Senate public utilities committee.

Big Increase Is Shown by P.O. Receipts

WASHINGTON, April 9. Postal receipts of fifty industrial cities throughout the country for March, 1925, showed an increase of $147,981.89 over March, 1924, Postmaster-General New announced today.

Total receipts for this year were $3,035,416.88, compared with $2,887,434.99, an increase of 5.13 per cent.

Springfield, Ohio, led all cities in increased receipts totaling $94,750.07, or 62.80 per cent.

Portland, Oregon, was second with an increase of 24.59 per cent.

PLANS WIDE HIGHWAY TO CONNECT CITIES

City Commission Recommends Council Widen Park Avenue From Chevy Chase Drive to Westerly Corporate Line

The building of a wide boulevard from Los Angeles to Pasadena, passing through the heart of Glendale, widening of Park avenue from Chevy Chase drive to the westerly limits to eighty feet and its renaming to Chevy Chase drive was recommended today to the City Council by the Glendale Planning commission.

Widening of Western avenue from San Fernando road to the entrance of Brand park to eighty feet was also recommended by the commission. Action was deferred by the council for a meeting of a committee of the whole to be held next Thursday.

The Park avenue project contemplates the joining of Riverside drive in Los Angeles with Chevy Chase drive, its widening and improvement and eventually being made into one of the most beautiful main arteries of travel in the Los Angeles district. The Western avenue plan has for its ultimate project the construction of a wide, tree-lined roadway to become the main entrance to Brand park.

Both projects are dependent, however, upon the submission by property owners in the districts affected of petitions for widening and improvement of the streets.

"I think it is a good thing for the planning commission to make such recommendations, however," said Councilman S. S. Gilhuly," and not wait until the city grows and the improvements have been overlooked by the people interested."

Title to Brand Park

Marking the final transfer of ownership of Brand park to the city of Glendale, the certificate of title to the property was presented to the council today by the Title Guarantee & Trust Co.

Indicating the widening and improvement of North Central avenue to conform with the recent improvement of the southern end of the avenue some time during the present season, the city engineer and city attorney today were instructed by the council to prepare plans and specifications and resolution of intention to be submitted for action as soon as all deeds for widening have been obtained.

All deeds with the exception of less than half a dozen for all property affected have already been obtained, it was said today. The rest are expected to be filed with the city within the next few weeks. As a result there will be no necessity for the city to engage in condemnation suits to obtain a widened right of way.

Widening of Central

A petition signed by more than 60 per cent of the property owners on North Central avenue asking for widening of the street to ninety-six feet, paving with six inch concrete cement, and installation of ornamental lights to conform with the present lights on Central avenue was filed with the council today.

SECRETARY WEEKS WILL RESIGN SOON

Official Act Awaits Only Naming Of Successor By President

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The resignation of John W. Weeks as secretary of war and the appointment of his successor, probably Charles D. Hilles of New York, is expected within ten days, according to seemingly authentic reports in administration circles today.

Secretary Weeks has notified President Coolidge that he cannot continue in his post but his actual resignation is being held up until Mr. Coolidge is ready to announce his successor.

While his physicians continue to report daily improvement in Secretary Weeks' condition, he still is "a mighty sick man," it was said today. The doctors are understood to have told him that any unusual exertion or any continuation of his desk-work might prove fatal.

Hilles is credited with a preference for the postmaster-generalship rather than the war department and this may lead to the transfer of Postmaster-General New to Weeks' post.

FATAL TRAIN ACCIDENT

PARIS, April 9.—Two were killed and many seriously injured when a workmen's train coming from St. Denis crashed into a concrete bumper at the north station early today.

SIX SAILORS DROWN

AMSTERDAM, April 9.—Six sailors were drowned today when the Dutch steamer Jonge collided with the British steamer Clan Monrow in the Weiling canal.

VON HINDENBURG TO KEEP SILENT

Former War Lord to Conduct Unusual Campaign In Presidential Race

BERLIN, April 9.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will conduct a silent campaign for the presidency, it was announced by his sponsors today. He supplemented this by declaring that he would not make a single speech and his only statement to voters would be a brief "Easter message."

Hindenburg is determined to keep aloof from party strife, his friends declared. Despite his pacific attitude, it was predicted the elections would be one of the most bitterly fought contests in German history.

The chances of Hindenburg have been greatly improved by the withdrawal of Ludendorf, politicians said, and by the action of the Communists in opposing Hindenburg and Marx, candidate of the Republicans.

Inflation Is Seen as Bank Report Filed

PARIS, April 9.—The government newspaper Quotidien today published a copy of a secret government financial report signed by Francois Marsal and dated April 19, 1924, showing that secret inflation had been going on under the Poincare government.

According to the weekly balance of the Bank of France today, the present total of paper in francs is 43,100,000,000, or more than two billion over the legal limit.

M. B. TOWMAN MARRIED, IS REPORT

Secretary of Glendale Motor Car Dealers Deserts Bachelors, Rumor

Glendale today had another missing man mystery.

M. B. Towman, manager of the Glendale branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California and secretary of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association disappeared from his office at 413 South Brand boulevard last Saturday. He has not been heard from since.

Coincident with his disappearance, Miss Olive Pascal, employed in the office, has also failed to report for work this week. But other workers in the office are wearing knowing smiles.

They say a marriage license was obtained last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Towman are believed to be in San Francisco and are expected to return in due time.

Towman has been manager of the local auto club branch for about four years, and is active in civic affairs.

Friends of Mr. Towman, when questioned by reporters of The Glendale Evening News, admitted knowing "something," but declared "the announcement will have to come from Mr. Towman himself."

In the meantime, the friends of the "missing man" are preparing to give him and his bride, pro-

HERRIOT PUTS BLAME FOR TREASURY FAILURE

Shifts Responsibility For Money Collapse To National Party

BULLETIN

PARIS, April 9.—The Chamber of Deputies this evening gave Premier Herriot a vote of confidence, 291 to 242.

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service.

PARIS, April 9.—Premier Herriot dramatically shifted responsibility for France's financial chaos from the Socialist government to the National party which was in power after the war, when he appeared this afternoon before the Chamber of Deputies and declared the time had come for frankness and "that he would no longer participate in a conspiracy of silence."

An alternative to Finance Minister De Monsie's capital levy project appeared today, proposed by Louis Loucheur, to the executive committee of the government majority parties.

The salient feature of his project was the establishment of a long-term sinking fund based on doubling the present income tax through the incomes derived from stocks and bonds.

Reveals Finances

"If I am being attacked now," declared Herriot in the Chamber of Deputies, "it is because I have been too discreet."

He asserted that the national government after the war had borrowed more money than the entire war had cost France.

"France's internal debt alone is a crushing burden," he continued. "First, there is a perpetual debt

'LONE WOLF' NEAR DEATH, IS CLAIM

Worthington, Facing Prison Is Dying, Says His Physician

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—John W. Worthington, known in Chicago as the "Lone Wolf of La Salle street," under sentence of two years in a Federal prison for misuse of the mails in connection with a huge "bucket shop" scheme, is dying, Dr. E. H. Anthony, government physician, declared here this afternoon. Worthington was hovering between life and death in his temporary home here.

HUNT ESCAPED CONVICTS

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., April 9.—An intensive man hunt in the country around San Quentin up to this morning had failed to find any clew as to the whereabouts of Joseph Tanko and Lloyd Hall, lifers who escaped from the state penitentiary. Both men were committeed from San Mateo county for the murder of Chief of Police Arthur Bruno.

Murder Trial If Matricide Gains Sanity

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old matricide, declared insane by a jury of nine men and three women after forty-five minutes' deliberation, will be committed to a "state hospital best suited for her case."

This indication came this afternoon from the court. It was learned that Judge Louderback has not as yet decided to what institution she will be committed.

There are a number of state institutions devoted to the care of the insane, among them being Stockton, Ukiah, Norwalk and Agnew. It is not believed that Stockton will be selected, as Dr. Clark, head of that institution, was a witness in the case.

"We are through with the case," Assistant District Attorney Harmon Skellin said.

"The jury has decided the issue. Her murder case will go on the reserve file, and if she is ever declared sane by the head of the institution to which she is committed, the state will then proceed to her trial for murder."

DODGE AUTO STOCK SALE SUCCESS

Public Quickly Snaps Up First Offering Under New Affiliation

NEW YORK, April 9. — The first offering of stocks of the Dodge Brothers by Dillon, Read & Co., an issue of 850,000 shares of 7 per cent no-par preference stock, was snapped up today and the books were quickly closed.

Bankers affiliated with Dillon, Read & Co., estimated that subscriptions for the preference stock might reach a total of $500,000,000 against actual offering of 850,000 shares at par, involving the sum of $850,000,000.

Listed on Exchange

The new stocks were listed on the New York Stock Exchange prior to their public sale, and the first block of 300 shares sold at 103, bringing a premium of three points over the offering price. The stock was freely supplied and settled down to 103½ in the first half hour of trading.

A total of $160,000,000 bonds and stocks, the largest piece of single industrial financing in American history, will find their way to the investment market as a result of the purchase of Dodge Brothers by the New York bankers.

INTO RECEIVERSHIP

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9.—The Knights of the Flaming Sword, organized by Colonel William Joseph Simmons, organizer and former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, was thrown into a temporary receivership in superior court here today, when Judge George L. Bell, granted a request of T. O. Tuttle, and Rev. J. P. Wiley of Eldorado, Kansas, and three employes of the order in headquarters here.

Decrease In Wheat Crop Is Indicated

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Based on a condition of 68.7 per cent of normal on April 1, a wheat production of 474,255,000 bushels was forecast today by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture as compared with 590,037,000 bushels in 1924. There was a decrease in condition from December 1 to April 1 of 12.3 points compared with an average decline in the last ten years of 4.4 points between these dates.

The condition of rye on April 1 was 84.0 per cent of normal, forecasting a production of approximately 61,625,000 bushels as compared with 63,446,000 bushels in 1924.

JAZZ GIRL IN DEAD FAINT FOLLOWING VERDICT'S READING

Slayer Of Mother Will Be At Once Ordered To State Asylum

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Dorothy Ellingson was today found insane!

The jury of nine men and three women returned its verdict at 11:10 o'clock, after 45 minutes' deliberation.

As the word "insane" was pronounced the titian-haired girl defendant crumpled in her seat in a dead faint.

The decision declaring the girl insane was reached by a 11 to 1 majority.

As the jury was polled Juror Selig was the only to say that the verdict reached was not his judgment.

The jury was dismissed with the thanks of the court as the girl declared insane lay in the arms of the matron by her side who held her from slumping from her chair.

The court room was cleared and a newspaper photographer slipped in and exploded a flashlight. The explosion aroused the girl and she uttered a piercing shriek.

She fainted again as matrons worked frantically over her and her father, grief-stricken, hovered her.

Later the girl came to and once more was a child sobbing on the bosom of Mrs. Kennedy, jail matron. She refused to say anything.

Under the law she must be committed to an insane institution within twenty-four hours. Judge Louderback will decide the institution and sign commitment papers.

A double guard will be placed over the girl to prevent her harming herself.

APRIL 14, 1925

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

The baseball season again has rolled around for the Pacific coast and in a few weeks the great American pastime will be luring thousands from their lairs of finance and factories, from the Atlantic to Pacific.

Baseball, like other athletic activity, is well patronized, and rightfully so. It is kept as clean as it is possible and it provides an exhaust valve for enthusiasm.

The ardent fan has something to talk about, somewhere to go, some team to espouse, some player to boost, some umpire to criticize, and some peanuts to eat and pop to drink.

At the game he can yell his head off, as the saying goes, and he can get a lot of sunshine in his life, including the sunburned countenance. One could write on and on, but the game's the thing, and its popularity is justified.

Prof. Nicholas Ricciardi, director of vocational and part-time education in the state, has promised the writer he would show some results of California's system for teaching the youngsters practical subjects when the two get together in Los Angeles a month hence.

Ricciardi prophesies the day when part-time education will be accepted by the majority of youth leaving grammar grades. They will correlate their work with vocational training and the schools' product will then be a staple commodity.

It was surprising to learn that only two out of 100 graduates of a high school ever reach the law, medical or ministerial professions. Only four graduate from college, as we recollect the figures which are current. And yet our school system keeps right on swallowing the program foisted upon it by the universities. The accredited schools certainly should be discredited for the practical product if they make 96 per cent conform to the curricula devised for 4 per cent.

Now it so happens that the figures just quoted do not apply to Glendale, nor the metropolitan area of Los Angeles, and therefore are not a subject for local debate. But they represent a condition existing in the state of California and few people realize it.

Vocational education is a necessity, but neither educators nor the public has been educated to the point, the writer believes.

Scholarly teachers do not admire seeing greasy automotive engineers, shoemakers, printers and other artisans taking the time of the precious students—and actually getting his interest and confidence. The intelligentsia, as represented by our university graduate instructors, abhors the thought. Yet they are not alone.

Mothers and fathers, too, want to see their little Johnny rise to the peak of political prominence, perhaps the presidency of these United States. They imagine their Willie addressing a great court room in defense of some poor client. They can hear their Horace expounding Modernism or Fundamentalism from the pulpit. They are sure their Mary is going to be another Mary Roberts Rinehart, or Annette Adams.

Yes, that's what they think. But Jack wants to be a locomotive engineer, Bill has hopes of running a garage, Horace would have a hotel, Mary would emulate Mary Pickford or get married to Jack or Bill or Horace if she had half a chance. Their ambitions are attainable, and natural.

Parents and teachers should recognize the facts.

PROTEST ACTION

MANILA, P. I., April 9.—Governor-General Leonard Wood declared this afternoon he expected the federal government to take a hand in preventing the levying of a tax on Philippine cocoanut oil products in California, which he believes would become effective if proposed measures regulating butter substitutes should be enacted into law by the Sacramento legislature.

CANDIDATE GIVES PLATFORM STAND

S. S. Beran Outlines What He Stands for Seeking Place on Council

S. S. Beran, candidate for City Council, announces his platform for the consideration by voters who will, on April 14, select five men for city council. Following is Mr. Beran's platform as given to The Glendale Evening News for publication:

Platform

I believe the City Council should act as one general contractor with and for the Glendale community, and if elected, I will work in this manner and along the following lines to the best of my ability.

First—Co-operation—I believe that all civic bodies should co-operate with each other for the benefit of all in like manner, and not for any particular section, person or persons.

Second—Schools—I believe the City Council should work with the school board for a school system in Glendale second to none. To develop and complete the present schools before looking for new sites. If any of the schools are not in the most convenient location to some, to investigate and arrange to install transportation to make it convenient to all concerned with no expense to the pupils.

Third—Industries—I propose to work with unlimited effort to induce new industries to come to Glendale, and to encourage those that are already here.

Fourth—Business—I believe in boosting business along legitimate lines, to develop present business streets and not to have it scattered all over the city. To prevent temporary business structures from being built and to make restrictions to keep undesirables out. I believe there should be restrictions to prevent outside persons and firms from coming here to take our business, but such restrictions that will not be a burden on those here, and to boost the "Trade in Glendale" slogan.

Fifth—Street Improvements— I believe that all residents on all streets should be first consulted to see if they are absolutely satisfied with their present improvements before improving again, and not to allow improvements where not needed. I believe that when improvements to streets are made, to favor such materials that have been proven to be durable and lasting. Why not insist on a standard form of paving such as the state's specifications on highways "or concrete?" Why not show some buying ability and not cater to some high-powered salesman that sells some patented pavement that the people of Glendale do not want?

I believe the Council should sanction all purchases of all equipment and materials for the various improvements by sub-contract for the full amount of the work to be done. For instance, for street lights, why contract for the work for a price so much per concrete footing, so much per switch, so much per bulb etc.? Why not contract for the whole amount of the work in one lump sum, thereby saving the people the excess handling charges?

Sixth—Civic Center—I believe the city of Glendale should purchase a real honest-to-goodness civic center centrally located and large enough to contain buildings to house all city offices, and not to have them scattered all over the city, as at present. To erect fireproof buildings large enough to take care of the future.

Seventh—Law Enforcement—I believe in law enforcement with consideration for the minor offenses and strict punishment for the serious offenders. To make necessary new laws and to cancel those that are old and ridiculous.

Eighth—Cleanliness—I believe it should be compulsory to clean all vacant lots in the city at least twice a year, to keep the streets clean and free from rubbish, and free collection of garbage. To preserve the trees, hills and other beauties that we have and to promote anything that will benefit the beauty of our city.

Ninth—Progress and Economy —I believe in normal progress with strict economy along all lines. To make expenditures that are necessary and in accord with the people. To get rid of all unnecessary offices and office holders, and to reduce taxes to the lowest scale possible.

Tenth—In general, I propose to work for the betterment and advancement of all Glendale. To welcome those that desire to come here and to protect in the best possible manner those that are already here. In short, to make Glendale the MOST HEALTHFUL, MOST ECONOMICAL and MOST BEAUTIFUL place in which to live.

S. S. BERAN.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, April 9.—Mrs. J. J. Grobeli has been elected president of the West Burbank Improvement association, A. A. Schuler, vice-president; Mrs. Brandt, secretary, and Leon L. Smith, treasurer. Trustees are J. F. Crockett, E. C. Rogers, J. E. Royce, James Green and George P. Cook. A petition was adopted asking the Original Stage Line to make two changes in its present Burbank service. The company was asked to give a 5-cent carfare from the business center of Burbank to Empire crossing, instead of 10 cents as at present. Half-hour service until 7 p. m. was also asked.

Superintendent Moore of the Burbank High school and Principal E. B. Thomas of the John Muir school are in Santa Barbara this week attending a convention of principals of schools now in session.

Reseda's first church has just raised $10,000 in pledges and cash subscriptions for the first church edifice to be erected there. The conference of the Methodist Church, South, has agreed to contribute an additional $3,000, and another $2,500 is available from a mortgage loan.

Mrs. Clara Swaim has been elected Girl Scout commissioner in Burbank at the annual meeting held in the Edison school. Mrs. Estella Sproule was re-elected local director and Mrs. T. E. McGuire was chosen deputy commissioner. Mrs. G. R. Pendell was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

The Burbank Realty board has adopted the same scale of commissions as those under which the Los Angeles Realty board is operating. These provide for a commission of 5 per cent on sale of business, industrial, residence, hotel, apartment, bungalow court, etc., up to $50,000, and 2½ per cent on amounts above that figure. The commission on leases will be 3 per cent of the total rental value of the lease.

LEGION NOTES

More than $15,000 a day is being expended by the State Veterans' Welfare board in farms and homes for the former service men of California under the $10,000,000 loan bond act, according to the report of George H. Stout, secretary. During March over $400,000 was invested by the board for the war veterans.

"The feature of the California veterans' legislation is that it operates without any cost whatever to the taxpayers of the state and creates millions of dollars worth of good, new city property and places under cultivation, thousands of acres of untilled soil, thus adding greatly to the state's wealth," Secretary Stout declares. Stout has conferred with the members of the Legislature now in session relative to the work which his board is doing.

Without a dissenting vote, the proposed $20,000,000 farm and home loan bond issue being sponsored by the American Legion, has been favorably recommended to the state Legislature for passage by the members of the Assembly ways and means committee. The bond issue will come before the Legislators in the form of a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people in 1926 along the same lines as the issue of 1922, which has encouraged 17,500 ex-service men to make application for farm and home loans from the state.

National headquarters of the American Legion has sent David O'Leary and Al Chase to California to act as field secretaries in the legion's national campaign to raise $5,000,000 for its child welfare work and assistance to World war. California's quota is $400,000 and solicitation of funds will begin about May 1. In the meantime the state will be organized to accomplish what President Coolidge and other national representatives have characterized as one of the greatest pieces of humanitarian service ever undertaken in this country.

Miss Grace Nichols, a pupil in the Healdsburg schools, has been awarded the first prize for the best essay submitted in the state of California in the American Legion's 1924 national essay contest. Miss Nichols' essay on the subject of "Why Communism is a menace to Americanism" is one of those selected from more than 300,000 submitted in the contest which was judged by a committee headed by Professor David P. Barrows, former president of the University of California.

The award to Miss Nichols is a beautiful sterling silver medal showing a figure of a woman in bas-relief awarding a laurel wreath of victory. The medal also bears a silver copy of the American Legion emblem. State Commander Nathan F. Coombs is to present the trophy to the prize winner before a meeting of the pupils, teachers and American Legion members of Healdsburg.

Mrs. Claire D. Oliphant, national president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, has just completed her first inspection tour of the California units of the organization. She arrived from the east on April 3, and in company with Mrs. Lilly Samuels, state president and Mrs. Elizabeth I. Drendell, state secretary for California, has visited many of the cities where the women's unit of the legion has been established.

California American Legion members are already signing up with State Adjutant James K. Fisk, for places on the Golden State special to the national convention of the organization to be held at Omaha next fall. Special rates are to be given on all railroads for the annual meeting of the war veterans.

Honorably discharged soldiers resident in California who have been separated from the service because of disabilities will be entitled to a personal property exemption of $1000 the same as soldiers discharged at the end of the World war, according to a bill which has passed the California Senate in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

RUBBER BUSINESS

AKRON, Ohio, April 9.—Rubber manufacturers here have had an exceptional volume of sales for the first three months of the year. They say, however, that the margin of profit has been small and net income has come largely from cuts in overhead.

EXPLAINS LAW ABOUT WILLS IN STATE

Mab Copeland Lineman Talks To Club Members On Inheritance

The seventy Glendale men and women who heard Mab Copeland Lineman, well-known woman attorney, speak yesterday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, learned many things of interest on "Wills and Laws of Succession." This was the third lecture given by Mrs. Lineman under the auspices of the American citizenship and legislation department of the club.

In her discussion she gave in detail the three kinds of will in California: The statutory will, signed by the testator and witnesses in the presence of others and declared to be the last will and testament; the holographic will, entirely written, dated and signed in the handwriting of the testator; and the oral will, made by soldiers and sailors on duty or by anyone in case of an accident, in contemplation of death, which occurs the same day, the property not to exceed $1000, requires two witnesses.

Charity Donations

She also took up the willing of property to charities, stating that only one-third of one's property can be so willed, and the will must be made thirty days before death, unless there are no close relatives or relatives sign waiver more than six months before death. On the subject of creditors' claims, Mrs. Lineman said, the creditor has four months to put in a claim when the estate is $10,000 and ten months when the estate is more.

The laws of succession were outlined as in the case of death of husband or wife, the surviving one receives one-half of estate and the surviving child one-half. If there is more than one child, the surviving wife or husband receives one-third of the estate and the children two-thirds.

Inheritance Tax

When there are no children the surviving wife or husband receives one-half the estate, the parents of the deceased the other one-half; if no parents, the brother or sister of the deceased; and if no brother or sister, their children; and if there are no such children the one-half goes to the surviving wife or husband.

Mrs. Lineman added that the husband and wife are heir to separate property in California. As for the inheritance tax, the wife does not pay any on her half of community property and has exemption on $24,000. The child's exemption is the same. The husband has an exemption of $10,000. The rate of taxation for the widow is 1 per cent for $24,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent for $50,000 to $100,000; and 4 per cent for any amount above.

Rotarians Beat Lions In Tennis Tournament

John T. Cate and R. Ernest Tucker, representing the Glendale Rotary club, defeated two roaring Lions, Dr. N. C. Paine and H. R. Davis, in the Service club tennis tournament this morning. The Lions took the first set, 6-3, but Rotarians Cate and Tucker came back strong, winning the next two sets, 6-3, 6-3.

CATTLE TRADE

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—In the last month nearly 60,000 head of cattle and calves have been shipped to this market and returned to feeders for further conditioning. This trend has been evident for some time since prices for prime stock have been high and for thin cattle extremely low.

FIRE INSURANCE

A certain insurance skunk in this city is going about representing to our policy holders that we have turned over our insurance business to him, and he tries to write their insurance. We have been called on the phone several times regarding same. We consider a town vagabond of this kind will not make any money at this kind of business, and I am sure not many friends. Now the fiend that these shoes fit, I ask to put them on and come to my office and tell me that I have turned any of my business over to him. He will find this old Kentuckian will climb his frame, now, if he thinks he is an O. K. man let him show up. We will be in the insurance business when he is in the poor house.

CHAPTER L, P.E.O., HAS CELEBRATION

Twentieth Anniversary Is Observed At Meeting Held Yesterday

Charter day and celebration of the twentieth anniversary of Chapter L, P. E. O., was observed yesterday at the all-day meeting held at the home of Mrs. May Lee, 345 North Belmont avenue. Mrs. Elizabeth Read, president, directed the business meeting and greeted the guests. Decorations were in yellow, the P. E. O. colors. Elaborate table appointments were made by Mrs. Bess Miltenberger, member of the chapter.

Special guests present who assisted in the organization of Chapter L, twenty years ago, were Miss Huldah Miller, state organizer at that time; Mrs. Minnie Potter, Miss Martha Winans, Mrs. Stella Carver, Miss Eva Quick, all of Los Angeles chapters; and Mrs. Eastman, Pasadena.

Charter members were: Mrs. Anna Goss and Mrs. Emma Burket, formerly of Chapter AL, of New Sharon, Iowa; Mrs. Josephine Brant, Mrs. Jessie Russell, Miss Ruth Byram, Mrs. Charlotte Campbell, of LaVerne; Mrs. Edna McGee, of San Gabriel; Mrs. Agnes Albright, El Centro; Mrs. Allitia Good, Culver City; Mrs. Monica Hite, Lancaster; Mrs. Minnie Smith, Berkeley; Mrs. Lottie Hezmalhalch, Fullerton; Mrs. Frances Hendershot, Crescent City; Mrs. Amy Lorbeer, Pomona.

Present Program

Out-of-town charter members unable to be present sent greetings. Mrs. Baxter, of Windom, Minn., was a guest. Mrs. Emma Burket and Mrs. Josephine Bryant had charge of the program.

Mrs. Bryant gave a memorial service for deceased members, Mrs. Bernice Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Moyse, Mrs. May Chase and Mrs. Pearl Tower. Miss Isabelle Isgrigg and Mrs. Mamie Arnold sang solos with Mrs. Randall, accompanist. A quartet of Miss Isgrigg, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Goss and Mrs. Maxwell, sang. Reminiscences were given by members and charter members. Miss Huldah Quick read an original poem and Mrs. Jessie Russell and Mrs. Anna Goss, gave talks. Mrs. Evangeline Smith, Mos. Edith Huntley, Mrs. Susie Dow, Mrs. Esther Pearce, Mrs. Mabel McFadden and Mrs. Bess Miltenberger were assisting hostesses.

Redwood Tree Is Dedicated To Mrs. Turck

Glendale friends of Mrs. Charles M. Turck, former Glendale resident and prominent clubwoman will join in her happiness at the announcement that friends of hers in the La Crescenta Women's club, and other friends have made a gift of $100 to the Redwood Memorial Grove fund, being raised by state and district club federations, to dedicate one of the giant redwoods in Dyerville Flats to her. The tree will be dedicated in the honor roll to Marguerite Greene Turck. Mrs. Turck, in accepting the honor, states that she is particularly touched because the memory of her late brother, Lieut. Marshall St. Clair Greene, who lost his life in the Philippines in the Spanish-American war, was honored when one of the buckeye trees in the Hayes Memorial grove in Ohio was dedicated in his name.

HOLD QUARTERLY CONFERENCE HERE

Women's Foreign Mission Society Meets At First Methodist Church

Eight hundred women of Southern California attended the Pacific branch quarterly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of First Methodist church, held yesterday at the Glendale First Methodist church. Bishop Herbert Welch of Korea spoke on "The Present World Situation."

Luncheon was served for 400 people by Mrs. Charles Starkey's group of the Aid society. Mrs. Alfred Matthews, branch president, presided during the meeting. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of First Methodist church, conducted the devotional service after the luncheon.

Miss Florence Knight, teacher in Glendale High school, is the new branch missionary, and in a few months will take charge of educational work of the Pacific branch at Mexico City. The young people's rally was held late in the afternoon, with Miss Zula Frances Brown, principal of high school at Nanchang, China, in charge. Miss Isabelle Isgrig, Glendale soloist, sang. Bishop William Burt also was present.

GIVES TRAFFIC RULES FOR SERVICES

Route To Tower Of Legends At Forest Lawn Park Is Announced

Preparations for handling thousands of automobiles that will jam Mount Forest Lawn before dawn Easter Sunday morning, seeking vantage points at which to park during the Easter sunrise services, are being completed by Chief of Police John D. Fraser today. Chief Fraser and his officers will be prepared to take care of a record number of cars at the Easter hill this year, Colonel Fraser announced yesterday afternoon following an inspection tour of the roads leading from the park entrance to the foot of the Tower of Legends where the services will be held.

These regulations were given out by Chief Fraser today. Other orders for the guidance of traffic will be issued before Sunday, the chief said.

1—Only one entrance, that at Glendale avenue and San Fernando road, will be available to motorists going into the park grounds.

2—All cars must follow the main line of traffic. There will be but one road in use leading to the top of the hill.

3—At the summit, cars will be required to swing around into parking space from the rear so that turning to get out when the services are over will be avoided. Space for several thousand cars is provided at the hilltop.

4—Only autos bearing official designations will be permitted past the police line at the head of the auto park. Official cars will carry speakers, members of the orchestra and others participating in the program.

5—Absolutely no parking will be permitted on the road leading to the top of the hill. Once services have commenced, no cars will be permitted to ascend to the top.

Chief Fraser warned autoists to fill their gasoline tanks before starting for Forest Lawn Memorial park. Last year, he said, nine cars had to be pushed off the road without gasoline.

Pedestrians will be obliged to enter the park through the main gate at Glendale avenue and San Fernando road. It will be impossible for them to get into the park by climbing up the hillside from other points as the Forest Lawn property is surrounded by a high fence topped with barbed wire. Once within the grounds, persons on foot will be able to follow the line of least resistance, taking directly up over the rolling hills to Mount Forest Lawn. Easy foot paths leading to the top of the hill will be rolled and put into good shape for pedestrians, officials at the memorial park said.

Health Bureau Officer Visitor In Glendale

Alexander Gaden, special representative of Bernarr McFadden, publisher of a well-known physical culture magazine, and an officer of the National Health Bureau of America, with Mrs. Gaden, is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. H. Killick, 421 Oak street. Before returning east Mr. Gaden may give one of his health lectures in Glendale. He has spoken in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities. His lectures deal with health and happiness and how to prolong life.

Several social affairs have been given for the Gadens during their visit here. Mrs. Killick has issued invitations for an informal musical affair early in May. Guests will come from Los Angeles and Hollywood. Mrs. Killick and Miss Gertrude Killick are planning to return east with Mr. and Mrs. Gaden early in July.

Eleven Are Injured As Automobiles Crash

A spectacular automobile collision occurred yesterday afternoon at the corner of Hollywood way and Verdugo avenue, Burbank, resulting in serious injury to Frank Edmonson, 22, of Owensmouth, E. W. Kennedy, president of a Los Angeles construction company; Miss Grace Hector, and eight children, Dora Walker, 3; Jean Walker, 5; Margaret Walker, 7; Merridy Jones, 7, and Merced Ybarre, 15. All, with the excepton of E. W. Kennedy, were taken to the hospital in Burbank. Mr. Edmondson was the only one held for treatment, it being reported that he is sufferinng from severe, but not fatal, injuries. Witnesses state that the high speed at which the two machines were traveling caused the crash.

Good Friday Services At Lutheran Church

Good Friday services are to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at First Lutheran church, 233 South Kenwood street. Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor, states that the public is invited to attend.

Police Find Baby Buggy, Boy's Wagon

Some place in Glendale there is a baby that misses its soft, upholstered buggy.

Probably in the same family an older boy has lost his little home-made wagon.

Both are being held at the police station for their owners. They were picked up by the police on Monterey road between Adams street and Verdugo road, and placed in the lost property department.

Capt. Loving believes the baby buggy and wagon were lost from an automobile or trailer.

HIGH PRAISE FOR JAMES RHOADES

Prominent Glendale Men Endorse Candidate For City Councilman

Editor The Evening News—May we express to the voters of Glendale through the columns of your valuable paper some reasons why Jim Rhoades should be elected one of the five members of the City Council in stating these reasons. We have no objections to any one of the other candidates as they are all sterling citizens, but as there are five to be elected, we believe for the following reasons Mr. Rhoades should be one of the five:

First—He has demonstrated his business ability in handling public affairs during the three years he served Glendale as secretary of our Chamber of Commerce.

Second—He has had experience in municipal affairs, having served as mayor of Missoula, Montana, where he rendered splendid service as mayor of that city from 1912 to 1914.

Third—He is a man that is not owned nor controlled by any individual company or corporation and is free to serve the vast interest of the whole people.

Fourth—He is a fearless fighter for right and is a man who can and will represent his constituency under any and all circumstances.

Fifth—He is an honest man and will deal honestly in all his dealings either public or private and has placed before the people of Glendale letters of recommendation of his past life proving conclusive his integrity.

In the face of these facts which we submit to the voters, we believe Mr. Rhoades is qualified for your consideration and support.

EXTEND CITY DELIVERY OF OF MAIL

New Service For Glendale Heights, Other Sections, Starts April 16

Four hundred additional families in Glendale Heights and the southeast and northwest sections of the city will get city postal delivery as a result of service extension ordered from Washington today by John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general. The extension of service will benefit residents on twenty-seven different streets in these districts. The new schedule will go into effect April 16, Assistant Postmaster George Hallett announced.

Service extensions approved by the postmaster general's office today were recommended by postal inspectors November 10, following a survey of the Glendale district. Application for still greater extensions are now pending before the Washington postal authorities.

Streets affected by the latest change are: Mission road from 300 to 330; Road's End from 331 to 415; Cottage Grove avenue from 1200 to 1299; South Adams street from 1406 to 1420; Princeton drive from 1100 to 1299; Palmer street from 1020 to 1232; Park avenue from 1100 to 1199; Tyler street from 1000 to 1199; Sinclair avenue from 300 to 399; Monterey road from 1100 to 1199; North Pacific avenue from 1500 to 1599; Ridgeway drive from 1500 to 1599; Kenneth road from 500 to 530; Monterey avenue from 1400 to 1499; Monte Vista avenue from 500 to 599; Palm drive from 700 to 799; Dryden street from 700 to 799; Patterson avenue from 700 to 725; Fairmont avenue from 725 to 799; Concord street from 600 to 699; Pioneer drive from 700 to 725; Spazier avenue from 1100 to 1199; Elm avenue from 1100 to 1299; Allen avenue from 1200 to 1299; Irving avenue from 1200 to 1299.

'Father And Son' Day At Kiwanis Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be "father and son" day at the Kiwanis club meeting at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The program will be in charge of the Boy Scout committee, headed by Dr. Ray Gartley, chairman, and the members of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the club will be special guests. Every member of the club will bring at least one boy to the meeting.

John P. Buckley, lieutenant-governor of this district, will be the special guest and speaker next week, Secretary Burton McGinnis announces. Final plans for the open forum dinner on April 16, to be sponsored by the club, will be made at the meeting tomorrow.

Economy Rule Puts Ban on Easter Finery

WASHINGTON, April 9. President Coolidge is carrying his economy ideas rigidly into his Easter program.

Recently published stories that the president had practised economy by buying a $65 Easter suit were all right, it was said at the White House today, except that the president had spent nothing at all for new Easter toggery.

The last suit purchased by the president was three months ago, and he is not buying another again for next Sunday.

RIGHT STAND ON TAX SITUATION

James W. Pearson Tells Why He Will Vote For John W. Usilton

James W. Pearson, 715 South Brand boulevard, prominent realtor and insurance man, and well known in the Glendale lodge of Elks, today sent the following communication to A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, relative to the candidacy of John W. Usilton for member of the City Council:

"Dear Sir:—I wish to take this opportunity to publicly compliment John W. Usilton on the stand he took yesterday appearing in the columns of your good paper relative to the attitude on the tax situation he would adopt if he is elected to the City Council. I was closely associated with Mr. Usilton on the building committee of the Elks of Glendale when we erected their beautiful home on Colorado boulevard. We had meetings two or three times a week during the planning for and construction of this home, running over a period of about a year and a half. Mr. Usilton was at almost all of the meetings, and I particularly remember his attitude on all matters that came up for settlement, and that attitude was FOR THE GOOD OF THE LODGE. It didn't matter whether or not some part of the work was to be let to a party for this reason or that. The principal thing was 'IS IT FOR THE GOOD OF THE LODGE?' Mr. Usilton was always considerate, conscientious and determined to have what was RIGHT. Knowing him as I do, it is with pleasure that I can vote for him for city councilman, knowing full well that he will do what he thinks is FOR THE GOOD OF GLENDALE.

"Sincerely yours,
"JAMES W. PEARSON."

Socket Wrenches Are Taken From Machine

A valuable set of fifty-two socket wrenches was stolen from her car when it was parked near the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, Central avenue and Lexington drive, last night, Mrs. Nellie P. Sherman reported to the police today. Mrs. Sherman resides at 1213 East Lexington drive.

The Glendale Auto Wrecking Co., 513 West Garfield avenue, reported the theft of a number of accessories from their yard some time during the night. Detective Lieutenant Royle is investigating.

EASTER GARB COST HIGH IN EAST

Mr. and Mrs. New Yorker to Pay $300 For Parade On Fifth Ave.

By DAVID SENTNER
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 9.—It will cost Mr. and Mrs. New Yorker $300 to walk down Fifth Avenue in the Easter parade next Sunday. Mrs. New Yorker will account for $200 of this sum, a ratio justified by the color she will provide in the annual fashion pilgrimage.

This estimate for the average man or woman who would follow "the dictates of fashion" was compiled from a survey of wholesale and retail establishments catering to the Easter fashion demand.

Estimates of Easter wardrobe budget for Mrs. New Yorker:

Hat, either straw or silk, to match ensemble, $20.
Shoes, black or in satin or kid to blend with ensemble, $13.
Hosiery, very sheer in light colors matching shoes, $3.50.
Gloves, kid or suede, to match shoes and hat, $5.
Scarf, of gay color to match suit or hat, $8.50.
Handbag, plain silk, color of shoes or fancy beading, $15.
Corsage, most popular, orchids, generally popular, $10.
Total, $200.

Mr. New Yorker's estimated Easter dress tax:

Sack suit, preferably in gray, $60.
Hat, pearl gray, most popular, $8.
Shoes, tan or black, $11.
Socks, choice of colors, $1.25.
White shirt with fold collar, $4.75.
Gloves, gray suede, $5.
Cane, malacca with narrow band of silver, $10.
Total, $100.

Skirts will be very short, coming barely to below the knees.

EXECUTE EIGHT REBELS

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 9.—Eight Kurdistan rebels were executed today before the mosque at Diarbekir, the war office announced. The rebels lost 300 killed in a battle near Silvan and in retreat the survivors burned the village.

Nick Harris Will Talk at Oakmont Club

Thrilling adventures of Jimmy the Rat and his droll philosophy of life, as recounted by Nick Harris, well-known detective and popular radio entertainer, will be a feature of the bazaar Friday and Saturday nights at the Oakmont clubhouse. Mr. Harris will tell one of his exciting detective stories at 8 o'clock each night. This big bazaar is to be open to the public and it is anticipated that crowds from Glendale and nearby cities will fill the clubhouse every afternoon and night. The children are to be special guests each afternoon.

People Capable of Deciding Whom They Desire In Office

For the past two months or more the columns of The Glendale Evening News have been left open to the citizens of Glendale to present the names of candidates to be voted upon for the office of councilmen at the municipal election on April 14. Of all the candidates presented in that manner, twenty-one qualified and had their nomination papers filed with the city clerk.

A brief but complete biographical sketch was published, giving all possible information to the voters as to the qualifications of the man seeking the office.

With all the above information, The Glendale Evening News leaves the case in the hands of a mass of intelligent voters to decide. The editor of The Glendale Evening News' acquaintance with the keen intellectual independence of the people does not at any time presume to take from their hands the right to select their choice for councilman. We ask no candidate to pledge himself to The Glendale Evening News.

Below are the names of the twenty-one candidates for City Council, five of whom are to be elected; the names of the six candidates for city treasurer, one of whom is to be elected; the names of the two candidates for city clerk, one of whom is to be elected.

DAYLIGHT SAVING A MISDEMEANOR

The state Legislature of Maine has passed an anti-daylight saving law, making it a misdemeanor for the state or any portion of the state to continue the daylight saving plan which has been in effect for some time.

Daylight saving has been a source of contention ever since it was inaugurated as a war measure by President Wilson. The farmers were greatly opposed to the plan, while indoor workers enjoyed the extra hour of daylight for recreation, and factory workers in the New England states refused to go back to the old way.

The city of Portland, Maine, voted recently, two to one, to continue daylight saving, but the new state law makes it a misdemeanor for them to turn their clocks back an hour on May 1, as usual.

Opponents of daylight saving contend that anyone is free to get up an hour earlier and retire an hour earlier than usual if they wish, which is true to a certain extent. Yet those who work and live among other people have to conform to the habits of others.

Unless daylight saving is nation-wide or at least observed by an entire section, such as the manufacturing district of Maine, it is better that the plan should be abolished, since it results in confusion and dissatisfaction. But for a state Legislature to forbid the people of any city to set their clocks ahead after they have voted to do so seems unwarranted interference.

BARGAINS IN FLORIDA

If any Californians are dissatisfied here and are taking the Florida boom seriously they can pick up bargains in real estate in Florida coast cities. According to the Decatur, Illinois, Herald, anybody can get for a song a house that the owner, homesick for the north and despairing of making future payments, is glad to get rid of.

"Automobiles have almost no market value," says the Herald. "You can buy a good six-cylinder car for $150 and a Ford as low as $25, depending on how eager the possessor is to get back to New York or Chicago. Not all the crowds that swarm Miami and Tampa are well-to-do tradesmen and farmers from Yankeeland with letters of credit in their pockets. Some of them sleep at nights on the warm sands of the beaches. Too many people have gone to Florida with nothing but a mortgaged automobile and high hopes. They want nothing so much as to get home."

No doubt there is a good deal of truth in the above. We know that many people have come to California with a mortgaged automobile and high hopes and knocked the country because they could not pick up gold off the streets. Still, the above sounds so much like the anti-California propaganda that has been sweeping over the east that it is best to take it with a grain of salt.

CITY PLANNING PROBLEMS

The root cause of transit and traffic problems in cities, according to Walter N. Polakov, an expert and distinguished engineer, is the habit of crowding into limited areas. Traffic problems are in reality city planning problems. When news facilities were inadequate and business had to be done in person, congestion was unavoidable, but now the telephone, the telegraph, the radio and the ticker have obviated the necessity of people crowding together in the business areas. But old habit grips them and they fling buildings far into the air, compressing enormous activities into a minimum of space and then invest hundreds of millions in transportation facilities.

"Don't crowd," says this engineer. "Decentralize. Utilize the land. Instead of one vast teeming center, have a number of centers, selected scientifically by engineers who can assemble the facts and correctly interpret them."

In this respect Glendale is ideal. We will not be forced to decentralize because we have spread out over the land from the beginning.

SOUL OR BODY?

There are other sins which may be placed in the category of murder besides the actual taking of life. Hate is murder, and, though we may be able to conceal this emotion; and, though human courts take no cognizance of it, yet, if hatred does not lead to actual murder, we are told that "Whoever hateth his brother is a murderer."

The sin of ingratitude is a deadly sin, for it may kill the soul. The one who makes sacrifices for another and then finds himself cast off when sacrifice is no longer necessary may suffer more than if his life had been taken, for when incentive to live is gone, life is worthless. The parents who toil and sacrifice for their children when they are growing up and then in old age find themselves cast off must suffer tortures compared to which death is nothing.

Thought is all-powerful. Before condemning the thief and the murderer too strongly we should search our own hearts and minds.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We mourn the age of chivalry, the good old romantic days when men placed themselves and their swords at the service of maidens in distress; when a man fought for lady-love, and so on. But times have changed, and fair damsels nowadays are either unworthy of knightly devotion or they no longer need it.

One night recently a man was walking along a dark street, when he heard a girl scream. Like the knights of old, he ran to her rescue and was held up by two men with revolvers, while the fair screamer went through his pockets. Another young man, out walking with a lady, was accosted by a hold-up man and was about to submit to being "frisked" at the point of a revolver, when the girl began to scream lustily and belabor the robber with an umbrella, frightening him away.

So when you deplore the fact that men are no more chivalrous and knightly, remember that women have changed, too.

The voice of the people seems to occasion modern public servants much less concern than the vice of the people.

Age is the quality that makes a man sigh with relief when it appears probable that a shower will spoil the picnic.

It Can't Be Done

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Every once in a while somebody throws a fit because the country is not prepared for war.

We ought to have a better army, a better navy, or more flying machines.

It seems to be the easiest thing in the world to prove that we are unprepared.

Some day we will realize that preparation for war is a bugaboo which no nation can attain unto.

A nation cannot be prepared against war any more than an individual can be prepared against violence by any other way than removing the matter of administering justice out of its own hands.

No man is protected against assault on account of the number of weapons he carries. He may wear knives all up and down his clothes and have a belt full of revolvers. But the more such weapons he has the more danger he is in of being shot.

The safest man in the world today is the man who has no weapons upon him, the man who lives in a community where there is an efficient police.

The analogy is perfect. The safest nation will be the nation that lives in a world that is well policed and not a nation that is able to protect itself.

In the nature of the case no nation can be prepared against an outbreak of hatred and folly on the part of a neighbor.

Just now the chemists of all lands are vying with each other to make new gases. The Bolshevik government is engineering a nation-wide movement to foster public interest in gas warfare.

The atmospheric fixation industry in Germany has forced imports of Chile saltpeter down to an extremely low level.

The Italian government is encouraging the production of nitrogen.

English soap-makers are said to be making investments in Scandinavia and competing in the markets of Finland, Russia and the new Baltic republics.

Every nation seems to be casting about to be ready to whip every other nation in the oncoming war. The result will simply be terrific destruction of life and property.

This promotes the safety of no people and the security of no government.

The best safety and security are to be found in the creation of good will and in the relegation of force to some other hands than one's own.

This was told us a long while ago by the Nazarene, and the world, after two thousand years, has not yet found out the truth of it.

It will take another catastrophe as great as the late war to make us realize it.

Horoscope

Contrary planetary influences are strong today, according to astrology. While Neptune and Venus are in benefic aspect, Uranus and Jupiter are adverse.

Under this sway young hearts are supposed to be most susceptible, for Neptune pictures even the most ordinary lover as a fairy prince. It is well to see with the mind; deception is probable with Uranus in evil place.

This is a day most auspicious for all that pertains to the finer side of life, for the mind is likely to be spiritually alert.

Ocean journeys are well aspected and again the seers prophesy an extraordinary amount of foreign travel.

The south benefits greatly at this time, the seers declare, for friendly stars guide its destinies.

It is well to delay all business ventures until the stars are more helpful. Initiative is likely to be thwarted under this sway.

Misjudgment of well-meant public service will be prevalent at this time when even the highest in government affairs will be severely criticized.

Increase of the birthrate is foretold and children who come into the world at this time should be wonderfully gifted.

Neptune is in a place indicating fluctuations and uncertainties in political matters. Many who have earned preferment probably will be disappointed.

Uranus is read as foreshadowing scandals in state legislatures regarding graft in lands.

Shipping and commerce on the Pacific coast will show great activity and prosperity, the seers foretell.

Many distinguished visitors from the Orient may be expected in the United States in the course of the summer.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a troublesome and unsettled year in which they have many changes affecting business and domestic relations, but they should prosper despite all drawbacks.

Children born on this day may have eventful lives in which they gain large experiences. These subjects of Aries are most successful when permitted to follow their special bents.

Today's Poem

THE TESTING

When in the dim beginning of the years,
God mixed in man the raptures and the tears
And scattered through his brain the starry stuff,
He said, "Behold! Yet this is not enough,
For I must test his spirit to make sure
That he can dare the vision and endure.

"I will withdraw my face,
Veil me in shadow for a certain space,
And leave behind only a broken clue,
A crevice where the glory glimmers through,
Some whisper from the sky,
Some foot print in the road to track me by.

"I will leave man to make the fateful guess,
Will leave him torn between the no and yes,
Leave him unresting till he rests in me,
Drawn upward by the choice that makes him free,
Leave him in tragic loneliness to choose,
With all in life to win or all to lose."

Edwin Markham.

SUGAR BEET PRICE

DENVER, April 9.—The deadlock between sugar beet growers and the Great Western Sugar Co. has been ended with a compromise agreement on prices for the 1925 crop. The minimum orinitial payment is increased from $5.50 to $5 a ton, but sugar company officials say this will not give the growers any more in the long run than the original contract offered.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

CLARK KINNAIRD

WITHOUT HURRY, without rest, the human spirit goes forth from the beginning to embody every faculty, every thought every emotion which belongs to it, in appropriate events.

But always the thought is prior to the fact; all the facts of history pre-exist in the mind as laws.

Each law in turn is made by circumstances predominant, and the limits of nature give power to but one at a time.

A man is the whole encyclopedia of facts.

The creation of a thousand forests is in one acorn, and Egypt, Greece, Rome, Gaul, Britain, America, lie folded already in the first man.

Epoch after epoch, camp, kingdom, empire, republic, democracy, are merely the application of his manifold spirit to the world.

Emerson, preaching the doctrine contained in the paragraphs above, observed that if the whole of history is in one man, it is all to be explained from individual experience. There is a relation betweeen the hours of our life and the centuries of time.

"As the air I breathe is drawn from the great repositories of nature, as the light on my book is yielded by a star a hundred million miles distant, as the poise of my body depends on the equilibrium of centrifugal and centripetal forces, so the hours should be instructed by the ages and the ages explained by the hours.

"Of the universal mind each individual man is one more incarnation. All its properties exist in him. Each step in his private experience flashes a light on what great bodies of men have done, and the crises of his life refer to national crises.

"Every revolution was first thought in one man's mind, and when the same thought occurs to another man, it is the key to that era.

"Every reform was once a private opinion, and when it shall be a private opinion again it will solve the problem of the age.

"The fact narrated must correspond to something in me to be credible or intelligible. We, as we read, must become Greeks, Romans, Turks, priest and king, martyr and executioner; must fasten these images to some reality in our secret experience, or we shall see nothing, learn nothing, keep nothing."

* * * *

When you read history, then, read history actively and not passively; esteem your own life the text, and the book the commentary.

Timely Views

"There is a danger of too much law extension," commented Federal Judge John C. Pollock, of Kansas in a recent interview in Wichita, Kan.

Judge Pollock expressed his ideas on the encroachment of law on liberty, and especially in regard to the last three amendments to the federal constitution.

"The seventeenth amendment, the popular election of United States senators, was a crime," he declared. "What does the average person know about qualification for the senate? How much better it was under the old provision, when senators were appointed by the state legislatures! The caliber of the senate has been lowered. The senate was intended by the founders of our government to be, if you will, an aristocratic body as a balance against the popularly elected house of representatives. Now it has come to pass that demagogs are the chief candidates for the senate; the really capable business man cannot make a successful campaign.

"And on the eighteenth amendment, the liquor law. I do not believe you can reform people by legislation. Prohibition of intoxicating liquors may be all right, but it should have been left to the decision of localities, as intended by the fathers of our government, and should not have been taken over by the national government. If we try to protect the public by an ever increasing code of legislation, we shall, in the long run, weaken the moral fiber of that public. There is more drinking now among the younger set than there was before the adoption of the amendment. In my mother's day a man did not carry a flask on his hip, and if he went to a dance with liquor on his breath he was ostracised by the others.

"And the nineteenth amendment, woman suffrage, was also a crime.

"The good, refined, home-loving woman does not vote and won't vote because she has too many cares in her home. The amendment was backed by organizations of radical leaders, supporting the measure as a movement rather than for any good it would do women. It is a concession to Socalism, because free love is the cornerstone of Socialism, and this is in line with the popular cry of woman's rights, sex equality and other such slogans.

"The gradual extension of legislation will lead to a loss of respect for law," the judge concluded.

PAINTED DESIGNS FEATURE FROCKS

Latest French Ultimatum at Least Gives Artists Room Rent Change

By AILEEN LAMONT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Greenwich Village has cheered up. More than one struggling artist has ceased to copy the old masters and is making rent money by painting for the young misses. Paris has sent us the hand painted frocks. These are designed not alone for evening wear but for informal occasions and even for sport.

Satin and heavy crepe de chine are the materials on which the modern artist is splashing at present. One charming dinner dress seen today is of black satin made along extremely simple lines with an 18 inch band of hand-painted birds and foliage about the hips. A jumper dress, designed by Agnes of Paris, which has just arrived, is covered with broad splashes of color lacquered by hand.

One of the newest evening traps is decorated with a life-size Bird of Paradise, painted between the shoulders. Many of the small hats have brim or crown adorned with small hand-painted figures. Of course, few of these costumes can withstand moisture, but while the gas holds out to burn in taxi cabs they are in small danger.

Some of the lighter dresses for late spring are of printed chiffon or georgette with hand painted borders and many of the chiffon frocks have their floral designs cut out and appliqued on a chiffon base. In place of the painted models, some designers are substituting brilliant hued Russian embroideries, executed in broad bands, chevrons and irregular splotches of color strongly reminiscent of chauve souries scenery.

The vogue for lace and embroidery continues for the lighter spring dresses. One dress, suggested by a costume worn by Mlle. Blanche Montel of the Theatre Caumartin, Paris, is of white georgette with the yoke and hem entirely composed of round medallions of French open work embroidery. The frock is banded by a plain white belt, fastened with a paste ornament at the waist line. The skirt falls in soft, rather full folds—not pleats. Lace and open work embroidery are being utilized to an increasing extent on the newer lingerie, especially on the gowns, which combine them in the finest of voiles.

PHILLY ASKS LINE

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Business and commercial organizations will continue to seek new means of inducing inauguration of steamship passenger traffic between this port and Europe. They declare they are not discouraged over the veto of the measure permitting the city to underwrite the international mercantile marine service if that company would operate passenger ships from Philadelphia, which Governor Pinchot declared unconstitutional.

SOBER COLORS TO PREVAIL EASTER

So Says Fashion Expert In Reviewing Style Now Blooming Forth

NEW YORK, April 9.—With only five more days needles are flashing in and out of Easter finery at a terrific pace this week. Seemingly they are busiest on coats. For the outer garments promise to be the feature of every Easter fashion parade. Without question, the most popular garments are those of silk, satin or crepe, with summer fur borders and trimming. Sober colors prevail.

The majority of all the top coats designed for Easter are black. This does not mean that the lighter and brighter colors, especially the blonde shades, are taboo. It simply indicates that many women have found that the darker colors enable them to wear the outer coat with nearly any daytime gown in the wardrobe. In most instances the touch of color, needed to give a hint of chic and individuality, is furnished by the linings. These often match the frock worn beneath.

In the north at least, practically every Easter top-coat is banded with fur. For this purpose, fox predominates. Instead of the old English toast to "the King and fox hunting" the fashion designers now drink to "The coat and fox raising." The majority of the pelts come from animals raised in captivity. This is especially true of silver fox which is as popular as it is expensive. Blue fox, white fox, red fox, platinum fox and a multitude of foxes dyed every imaginable color, vie with the beautiful black and silver pelts in attractiveness. Monkey krimmer and caracul also are utilized.

The top coat, as exemplified in the pre-Easter showings here and abroad, has got well away from the heavier fabrics in most instances. The silk-worm rather than the sheep or the goat is the original producer. The most popular outer garments now are made of crepe, satin, satin bengaline, silk bengaline, charmeen faille or taffeta.

LATIN-AMERICAN LESSON LEARNED

United States to Avoid Any Dispute After Trouble In Recent Squabble

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

WASHINGTON, April 9.—America probably will avoid any more arbitrations like that involved in the Tacna-Arica dispute. Government officials realize now that irrespective of the ultimate outcome of the controversy, the friendship of the United States for one or the other of the principal Latin-American countries will inevitably be impaired for some time to come.

There was originally another way out for the United States. It was urged at the time and now administration officials are wishing it had been adopted, namely, the submission of the dispute to the permanent court of international justice at The Hague.

President Harding was loath to suggest that means because he felt the United States could set an example in helping nations of the western hemisphere adjust their disputes. Having insisted that America keep out of Europe, Mr. Harding was anxious as was Secretary Hughes to show that the United States could apply the principle of international comity in this hemisphere without a league of nations or its instrument—the world court.

Opinion Divided

Opinion then as now was divided as to the wisdom of intervening in any way except to help the disputants to reach a decision to arbitrate. The mistake, it is argued, was made in accepting the role of arbitrator.

The President of the United States was named and that's how Mr. Coolidge inherited a task which if he had to decide for himself he might not have accepted. Still the award has been made and the government here feels it is a fair and impartial one.

Embarrassment has arisen over Peru's position. The Peruvian government insists that America conduct the referendum placing American "forces" in the disputed area to take charge while Chilean officials are withdrawn. It is alleged that the Chileans in possession of the two provinces can coerce the voters.

STRAPLESS PUMP LATEST IN BOOTS

Decided Swerve Away From Multiple Strap Effect For Easter Wear

NEW YORK, April 9.—The girl who guesses right about her Easter costume will be walking on air when she joins the church parade on Easter Sunday, but her feet will be thrust into pumps in most cases. There has been a remarkable swerve away from the multiple strap effect in footwear in late weeks. If a strap appears at all on the newer shoes, it is of a broad and simple design. This is true of English, French and American models. It does not mean, however, that the shoes are no longer ornate. Diversity of style and coloring are achieved with materials rather than with designs involving elaborate straps and cut outs.

Some of the Easter shoes have toe, counter and heel not only of different colors, but of different materials. In some instances the toes and heels are of kid and the counter of patent leather. Some of the new pumps have small leather or satin bows and others are entirely undecorated and tongueless. Still others have jagged and irregular borderings and contrasting shades and leather. Lizard and alligator are often combined with patent leather, kid and satin, and the vogue for gray lizard is distinctly observable.

Reptilian Feet

Not since the stone age have reptiles had feet, but that does not mean that the modern woman shod in the reptile leathers has to crawl along. These new leathers provide the most attractive combinations of color, including rosewood blond, gray, rust, apricot and java. But if they do not fit they cause sharper agony than many a serpent's tooth. The high spike heel is thoroughly in vogue, but nothing is so trying to wear other for comfort or appearance unless the ankles are trim.

However tired the feet within them may be, the latest Easter shoes neither yawn nor gap. The answer has been found in the elastic insert which is a feature of the newer pumps and which usually is concealed by a covering bow or buckle.

WHALING FORTUNE

BARCELONA, Spain, April 9.—The crew of the whaling steamer Morote, a small ship belonging to a corporation of Corunna, captured a small fortune when it killed a huge whale in the Atlantic recently. The whale was found to contain nearly 248 pounds of ambergris, the waxy substance which is highly prized in the perfumery business. The sale of the ambergris will bring in about $70,000.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—A $400,000 public playground was assured Los Angeles at the mouth of Santa Monica canyon today, following an opinion of the city attorney eliminating protest proceedings.

BILL DING MAKES CHANGE IN DATES

Writes Weekly Letter Each Thursday Instead Of Saturday Issue

By BILL DING
Written by DONALD R. GILLIN Service Mgr., Bentley Lumber Co.

Bill Ding sez—"When you read The News articles of Bill Ding you conclude at once what a wonderful writer he is, and he can just imagine how you are shouting good, fine, keep to it, old man, etc., or else you think the lingo is bad or indifferent, as the case may be; hand it to someone else and your part is done.

"Not so with Bill Ding. His troubles only begin with the ending of the process of getting up a news article for home-building fans or any others who read the latest dope. For in each article Bill always refers to the company advertsing that is prepared and appears elsewhere in this paper and which every reader is urged to inspect for the facts they contain.

Date Is Changed

"Immediately after the paper is published with the Bill Ding advertisements appearing, the bombardment begins. Our telephone lines are swamped with folks wanting a stick for a rustic seat, a pergola, a vine trellis, a whole complete lumber bill or lumber for a flying kite. We handle anything and everything in building materials. So, according to the way in which my opinions of things seem to impress those folks who are calling for building materials I will continue to write these ads which will appear in The Glendale Evening News, and also this lingo called publicity, which you are all so wild about.

"I think it wise to explain we are changing the date of our publication from each Saturday to Thursday, the immediate cause being that so many folks have been staying home on week-ends to read the advertising messages of Bill Ding it is working a hardship on some of the womenfolks that don't get a chance to otherwise get out. Now, before I get away from this bombardment proposition I was speaking about there is a long list of anxious folks that want to hear about our famous Bill Ding party. It's coming just like Fourth of July, and I might say here this anxious list of folks I'm speaking about don't compare with the list of the anxious folks that want to build homes and that can obtain a copy of our new Bill Ding catalogue that is just published by calling at our office in Glendale or Eagle Rock. So that's that."

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

JOINT INFLAMMATION

"My dear Doctor: Won't you please write on 'Squeaky Joints'? I am 40 years old, five feet, five inches tall, and weigh 156 pounds. I have had rheumatism for the past four years, and it is mostly in one hip and both knees. A tonsillectomy and the extraction of two devitalized teeth have helped some, and a thorough examination by a reliable M. D., with urinalysis and blood test as well as X-Rays, do not reveal any other source of infections.

"BUT MY POOR KNEES! They crack and squeak when I go up or down the stairs, and are extremely painful. When I sit down, I often have to 'ease' myself down. I've always been so well and so active—in fact I have a boy who is a sophomore at college who has never yet been able to beat his mother at tennis, and I can dive better and swim farther than he can. But if I do these things now, my knees surely pay for it. Have I got to give up all these things and be an old lady for the rest of my life? My dear Doctor, I'd rather die than to think that was my fate! I'd be so grateful if you could give me some advice, and would so willingly pay for it. I really think that many others are interested in this same trouble. I shall watch anxiously for a reply.—Mrs. D."

You are overweight, about 20 pounds, Mrs. D., so you have been overeating for your needs. In overeating, you have undoubtedly had an unbalanced diet; probably an excess of candies, pastries and nuts, bread and butter, fat meats, rich gravies, etc.—just the things we overweighters love most.

It has been found that a diet that contains excesses along any line disturbs the utilization of the vitamins and mineral elements and that the tissue resistance is so lowered that infections may occur anywhere in the body. In your case it probably was the chronic infection from your tonsils and teeth, combined with an improper diet, that has caused your trouble.

I advise you to go to an orthopedic surgeon. He will probably advise you to wear a supporting belt for your hips. Until you can do this, wear a snug fitting girdle corset that comes well down over your hips, during the day time, and at night when you go to bed wear an abdominal binder about 18 inches wide, having it come well down over the hips. Pin it on with safety pins just as snugly as you can. You will find that will keep you from being so lame in the morning. Usually those who have these hip inflammations are very much worse in the morning because of the relaxation of the muscles while lying down.

It is best to sleep on a bed without any springs. You can put a long board touching the head and footpiece, on your side of the bed.

Hot compresses and hot baths, with some epsom salts in them, say one pound to the half tubful of hot water, will be helpful. The therapeutic lamps are very good. You can get a home lamp in any surgical supply house or in the large drugstores. Many physicians have therapeutic lamps giving the ultra violet rays, and they are still more effective.

If I were you, I would go on an orange juice diet for three or four days, or longer. Take a glass of orange juice every three hours, with water in between. This will help reduce your weight, also. Then gradually resume a reducing diet, and don't forget to include liberal amounts of raw vegetables and fruit.

I am not in private practice, Mrs. D., and I cannot accept pay from my followers. But don't worry about the pay. Your newspaper has to do that. In truth, I am paid and paid well, and the gratitude and love of my followers add immeasurably to my remuneration.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Kind Reader Friends have sent in the following helps:

"My Escalloped Oysters: (Note this recipe happens to answer the request of "Mrs. E. V. N." just received). Wash one quart of oysters. Butter a medium-size baking dish and put in a layer of dry breadcrumbs, add a layer of the oysters, sprinkle with a little salt, a little minced celery and a little parsley if you have it, then dot with bits of butter. Repeat these alternate layers till the dish is full. To one quart of oysters I use five cups of crumbs. Pour two cups of rich sweet milk over the contents of the dish, and add a top layer of buttered crumbs. Bake 35 minutes in a hot oven. Serve hot. Contributed by Old Housekeeper."

"How I Whiten Linen: I have two methods, both good. I think there is nothing more shiftless than allowing one's household linen to become yellowed. Perhaps other women might like this information:

Method Number One: Soak the linen in buttermilk for 48 hours, then rinse in clear, cold water, rinse again in water which is lukewarm, and dry in the sun on the grass.

Method Number Two: This is for very badly yellowed linen—discolored either from age or disuse. Put it in a solution consisting of one pound of baking soda to one gallon of boiling rain water, let soak off the stove 12 hours, then put it over the fire in the same water and boil for one hour. Have ready the following solution: Chloride of Lime Solution (this may be used on cottons or linens, but it yellows silks and woolens). Stir two teaspoonfuls of chloride of lime into a pint of water in an earthenware dish and allow it to settle, then pour off the clear portion; add a few drops of vinegar. Immerse the linen in this (after it has soaked as above directed in the soda and rain-water solution) and let it remain in this lime solution till it is white enough. Then rinse in water which contains a generous amount of household ammonia (this alkali neutralizes the acid, thus protecting the fabric from decay), rinse in clear water, and dry in the sun. Contributed by Chemist's Wife."

Tomorrow: The Vitamine

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

PROTECTING THE SKIN

In the spring and fall the skin is apt to chap for apparently no reason. There is a reason, of course, either the new cold of coming winter or the raw, wet beginning of spring days. Either weather condition seems to take the oils from the skin, leaving the pores prominent, the surface of the face hard to the touch, and the face itself neither fresh nor pretty.

At such times, I'd advise discarding cleasing cream and using the heavier flesh building cream instead, washing it off afterward as you have probably always been doing. The little cream the skin absorbs will help greatly in keeping the complexion soft. Even vanishing cream may be used under powder before going out of doors, or before dressing for the evening. Vanishing cream is very useful at times, but it can easily be overdone; I don't think in the long run it is very good for the skin.

Or if you don't want to bother with two sorts of cold cream, cleansing and the flesh making, use olive oil before washing; this is really as good as the heavier cosmetic, and an excellent cleanser. The point is that the skin must be supplied with natural vegetable oil, which it will absorb, to take the place of what the climate dries out.

At nighttime, the skin should be rubbed well with cream, or olive oil; this should be kept on for as many minutes as convenient so it can be absorbed and then wiped off with an old cloth, not washed out with water. I do not think three times a day too often to put cream or oil on the face when the skin is very dry for this period never lasts very long and the complexion adjusts itself soon enough to changed weather conditions. Remember that with the morning and late afternoon treatments the cream is washed off, very little remains in the skin, only enough to keep the soap and water from drying it further.

The finger nails, too, will need treatment at this time; whatever condition takes oils from the complexion, takes it also from the nails.

H. T. H.: I am sorry but I cannot suggest any one who does the work you need.

M. F.: You are about 15 pounds overweight as a girl of 17 years with a height of five feet, six inches, is considered normal weight at about 123 pounds.

Miss B. L.: The shampoo you are using may be too drying, or you may be living too much indoors in overheated rooms. Either one of these conditions would be sufficient cause for your hair losing its tendency to curl. Try shampooing with castile soap the next time, and watch the temperature and ventilation of the rooms you live in most.

Tomorrow: The Dressing Table

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Church Wedding

Calvary Presbyterian church, Riverside, was the setting last night, Wednesday, April 8, 1925, at 8:30 o'clock, for the wedding of Miss Eleanore Jackson of Riverside, and H. Hill McGillis of 1003 East Lomita avenue, Glendale. Dr. Ira W. Barnett, pastor of the church, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. C. A. MacDonald, pastor of Riverside Christian church. Three hundred relatives and friends of the couple were in attendance.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Orville Farnsworth, of Riverside, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Oh, Promise Me," with the church organist as accompanist. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played as the bridal party entered the church. The church was transformed into a spring garden, spring flowers and fruit blossoms being used in profusion.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe trimmed with rose point lace. Her veil was of rose point lace with bandeau of rhinestones and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and orchids. Her father, Oscar Sidney Jackson, gave her in marriage.

Miss Lucille Simcox of Riverside, was maid of honor. She wore pale yellow over pale blue georgette, trimmed in real lace. Her bouquet was of Ophelia rosebuds and sweetpeas. Dr. Howard M. McGillis of Los Angeles, brother of Mr. McGillis, served as best man. Shirley Winans of Riverside, dressed in a bouffant pink organdie dress, was flower girl. Frank McGillis and Newton McGillis of Glendale, brothers of Mr. McGillis, were ushers.

An informal reception was held at the church for the wedding guests. Fifty relatives and friends were served a buffet supper at the Jackson home. The home was decorated with tulips, sweetpeas and ferns. The wedding cake was decorated with miniature birds and doves, used on the bride's mother's wedding cake thirty-four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. McGillis left for a honeymoon trip to Catalina Island. On their return they will be at home April 15 at their home in Los Angeles. Mrs. McGillis is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sidney Jackson of Riverside. She has been serving as secretary for Dr. Ira W. Barnett, pastor of the Riverside Calvary Presbyterian church. She is a graduate of the Riverside high school. Mr. McGillis is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis of 1003 East Lomita avenue, and a graduate of Glendale High school with the class of 1925. He is attending the Los Angeles College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons. Glendale people attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGillis, Dr. and Mrs. Howard McGillis, Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Kolts, Mrs. Sidney Dell, Newton McGillis, Mrs. L. T. Rowley and Mrs. E. A. Rowley.

Rub It On At Bed-Time
For Deep Chest Colds
All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.
Vics is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.
Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

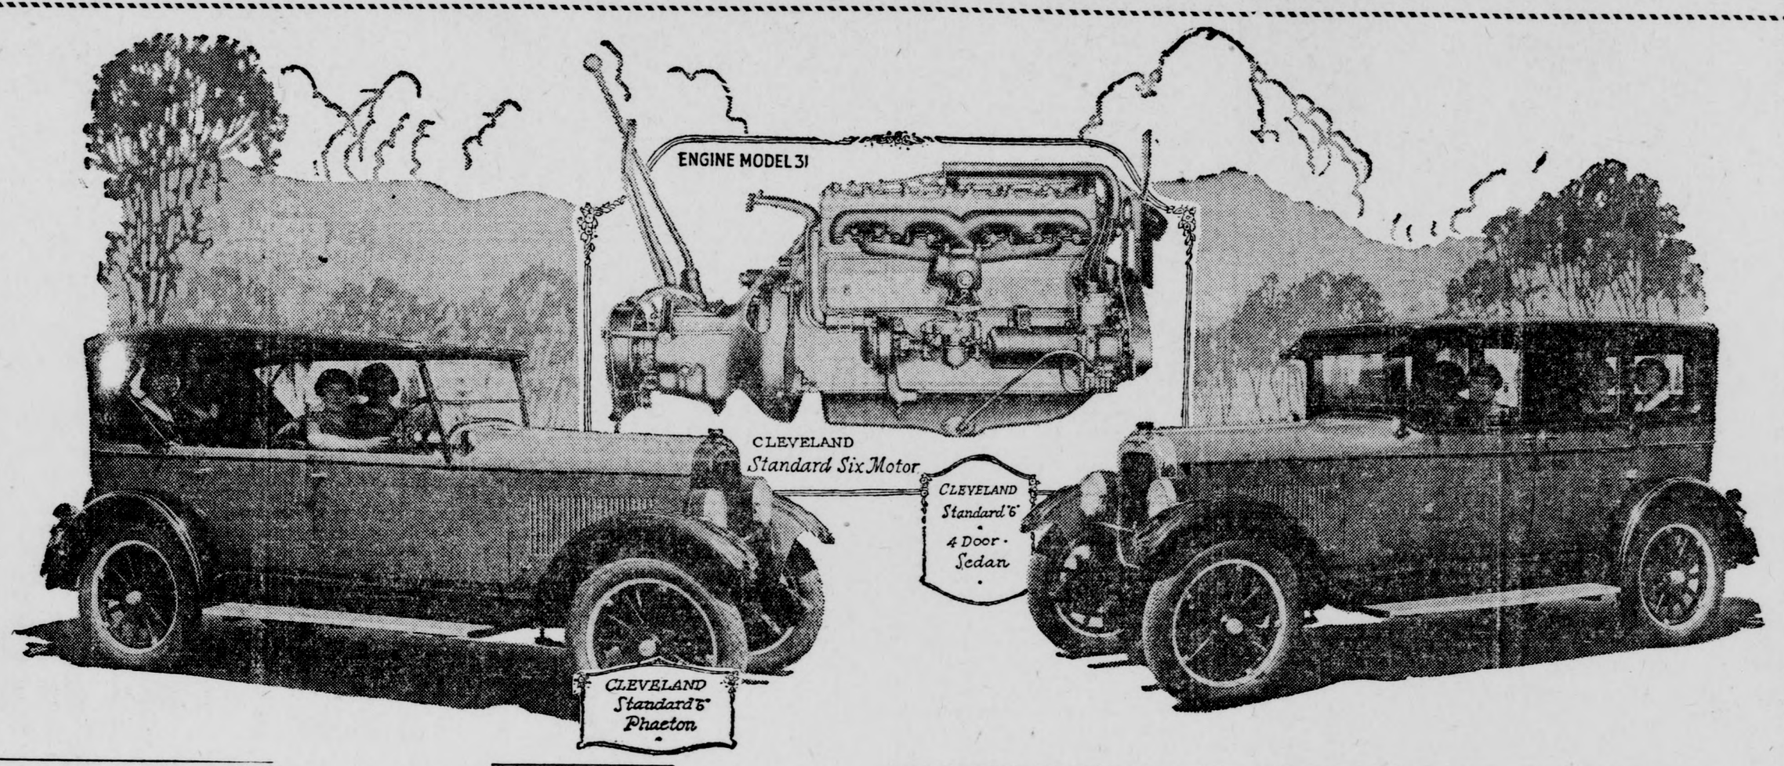
Elegance, Power and Beauty Embodied in New Cleveland

Motorists who have visited the show rooms of BARTON BROS., 1119 South Brand boulevard, marvel at the pleasing lines of the latest models produced by Cleveland factories, and when they see that car demonstrated, there is a vast resemblance to the famous record-breaking Special Six, also put in the field by the same firm, which startled the motoring public by its marvelous performances. The new models include the Standard Phaeton, shown at the left, and Standard Four-Door Sedan, shown at the right. The Model 31 engine, a six-cylinder power unit, used in these two cars, is shown in the center. Standard equipment on both models include balloon tires, while four-wheel brakes, mechanically operated, are optional at a slight additional cost.



OUTING TRIPS MADE EASY BY CARE

Helpful Suggestions Given By Auto Club for Long Distance Driving

"Thou shalt not" spoken to many persons makes them disagreeable, but when "don't" suggestions, such as those herewith offered to motorists planning extended trips by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, are really helpful, more attention is paid to them.

Here is what the club thinks about long distance outing trips, in connection with equipment to be taken and things that should be watched. The points suggested by the club are:

Don't allow the car to be without provisions or food of some sort at any time.

Don't fail to have warm clothing in the equipment, the high altitudes in the west are cold and the dry air is penetrating.

Carry Goggles

Don't forget the yellow goggles. In driving west you have to face the sun all afternoon and the glare is hard on the eyes.

Don't drive through water without first ascertaining the depth.

Don't wait until your gasoline is almost gone before filling up. There might be a delay or it might not be obtained at the next point where it is expected to be found.

Don't allow your water canteens to be other than full of fresh water and keep them filled. The burst of a water hose or a sudden leak in your radiator might occur between garages.

Traffic Signs Urged Read By Auto Club

"Get the sign-reading habit," is the slogan suggested by the Automobile Club of Southern California to auto drivers who are often arrested for violations of traffic ordinances. Traffic officers seldom consider the excuse of not seeing the sign as a good alibi.

Road signs are posted for the definite purpose of warning autoists of traffic laws, as well as for directing him where and how far to go. The plea of ignorance of the road signs is no better than that of ignorance of the law in the courts, it is said. Motorists who fail to look at the signs are continually running the risk of arrest and also accident, through failure to observe the warning. If drivers generally would watch for the signs more often, thousands of needless arrests could be prevented. Watch the signs!

Motorists Warned To Consider All Tourists

"Don't cheat the motorist who follows you of his right to enjoy the beauty spots of our Southland" is the text of an appeal being made by the Automobile Club of Southern California to autoists planning picnics and outing trips.

With prospects of a record touring season this year, motorists are asked to be more considerate than ever of the many tourists and outing parties who will follow them on the highways. Many wonderful picnic and camping sites are shorn of their beauty and appeal each year by selfish parties that leave papers and luncheon refuse around or who denude a spot of its wild flowers, which are usually thrown away long before the car is back in its garage. Considering the many who will picnic or rest along the roads this coming season, motorists should preserve the beauty charm of these grounds if only for their own future use.

Steel produced in Japan meets only half the demand.

New Standard Six Announced By Makers Is Priced To Meet Competition In Four-Cylinder Fields

"A touch of Europe in their trim modesty; a dash of America in their graceful, sweeping lines!" This seems to be the consensus of opinion of those motorists who have visited the display rooms of Barton Bros., 1119 South Brand boulevard, local Cleveland Six dealers, and viewed the new Cleveland standard six models.

The new Cleveland standard six consists of a phaeton and a four-door sedan, both seating five passengers and listing at less than $900 and $1200 respectively, thus giving Cleveland a six cylinder motor car priced to meet competition in the four cylinder and low priced six cylinder field. Displayed for the first time at the New York show, where they received an enthusiastic reception, the new models are now on display at the establishment of Barton Bros.

Standard Equipment

The most striking thing about both models is their close resemblance to the famous record-breaking special six. Embodying elegance, power and beauty, they carry the impression of real quality. The lines, proportions and details of workmanship contribute smartness and conservativeness not usually found in motor cars selling in the Cleveland standard six price field.

Both the phaeton and the four-door sedan are finished in sagebrush green Duco, and have a gold striped, black bead moulding which extends the entire length of the car to the radiator shell. The tops, fenders and aprons are black. Genuine leather upholstery is used in the phaeton, and rich taupe worsted in the sedan. The latter is fitted with dome light, sun visor, windshield wiper, and nickel radiator shell. Balloon tires, 30x4.75 are standard equipment on both models, and mechanically operated four-wheel brakes are optional at slight additional cost.

Powerful Motor

The motor of the Cleveland standard six is an exclusive development of the Cleveland factory, and actually develops 45 horsepower. Dealers in California have put this motor to exhaustive tests and reports are that its performance qualities are on a par with the famous mileage motor of the special six.

"The introduction of the new Cleveland standard six does not mean that the special six which has won for itself such renown as a result of its many record-breaking achievements in Southern California, will be discontinued," says King Barton, "but this new car has been introduced to meet the demands of those hundreds of motorists who seek power, grace and beauty at a price that is less than the price asked for other cars carrying these features now on the market. In other words, the Cleveland standard six has been developed to meet competition in the low price field.

Body Hung Low

"The body of the phaeton is hung unusually low, giving absolute comfort, and is cradled on yielding springs. The upholstery of the open model is of leather, while in the sedan beautiful taupe worsted is used. The sedan is especially cozy, with plenty of room for comfort. All six of the windows operate mechanically. The windshield is of the self-ventilating type. Instrument board is of circassian walnut, and the driving controls are within easy reach.

"With the introduction of the Cleveland standard six in Glendale, it is now possible for the local motorist to revel in the sensational power, speed and stamina that the Cleveland six displayed when it smashed all records on Mt. Diablo, Mt. Baldy and Mt. Wilson, and when it made the electrifying run of 1000 miles on the Culver City Speedway in 745 minutes—and all this, mind you, with an investment of less than eleven hundred dollars!

"All models carry the 'One Shot' lubrication system, by means of which you merely step on a plunger to instantly oil every moving chassis part."

GAS TAX JUMP NOT NEEDED FOR ROADS

Highway Development Funds Sufficient, Report From Capital Reveals

Fear that highway development in California will stop unless the gasoline tax is raised apparently is without foundation, according to figures coming from Sacramento.

These indicate that the state will have some $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 to spend on roads in the next biennial period without any increase in taxes.

The sums available include $45,000,000 that will be collected on motor vehicle taxes; $8,000,000 that is now in operating contracts; $12,000,000 in new construction work by counties and road districts; $2,000,000 to be spent by the forest service; and $1,000,000 on the National park highways, a total of approximately $68,000,000 on highways during the next two years.

If this is not enough, more should easily be available, as it is indicated that the state will have a surplus of $22,000,000 in the general fund, part of which could be diverted to highway construction purposes.

With these figures before them the motorists of California are flocking to support the attitude of the Automobile Club of Southern California in objecting to further taxation of the motorist, whose taxes were raised over 100 per cent last year.

La Jolla Police Warn Of Traffic Regulation

A warning has been issued by the police officials at La Jolla that it is a part of San Diego and that San Diego's traffic ordinances are in effect in that community. Violations of the traffic ordinances have become so numerous in this district that for a short time warnings will be issued to motorists, after which they will be given tickets for all violations. According to the National Automobile club, motorists from Glendale to San Diego should be guided accordingly.

Rim-of-World Highway Surveyed For Changes

A definite preliminary survey has been made relative to the re-routing of the 101-mile Rim of the World drive in Waterman canyon, San Bernardino mountains, which would reduce the present 12 per cent grade to about 7 per cent and not more than eight, according to recent information received by the touring department of the National Automobile club. The present switchbacks and hairpin curves would be eliminated. Consideration of this proposed relocation project is now receiving the consideration of officials of the Bureau of Public Roads and the State Highway commission.

Steel houses built in a single day are reducing the cost of construction in England.

STATE FUNDS FOR ROADS OUTLINED

Allocation Is Stumblingblock In Gas Tax Increase Battle, Report

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
Special to the Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The allocation of funds for new highway construction in the state of California has been the stumbling block injected into the gasoline tax increase fight. Members of the Senate revenue and taxation committee called the State Highway commission on the carpet to learn why it could not be done—why the budget law did not apply to that department, and some interesting information was brought out.

First of all, due to a lack of division engineers in numerical strength, the thirteen southern counties have not been getting their roads completed as quickly as the north. Which is another way of saying that the two northern commissioners outvoted the one from the south and shoved 98 per cent of their work ahead, leaving but a mere drop in the bucket for the balance of the year if the south gets all that's coming to it.

Bayshore Road

But listen to this. If funds are obtainable from any source, the same condition is going to prevail and the San Francisco clamor for the Bayshore highway will be granted. At least that was the assurance given the Bay City delegation after the budget was read Monday night in which the southland gets about $2,400,000 of the $2,650,000 left. Incidentally, Imperial county is going to get some of its long promised and cherished pavements.

Chairman Harvey Toy, in urging that the highways be budgeted annually, pointed to the fact that there is no way to clear up questions of rights-of-way two years in advance, pointing to a five year delay on the coast highway through the Malibu ranch. There is no way of knowing what action will be taken on county aid by various boards of supervisors. There is necessarily dependence on federal government aid, which must be earned by the states. And another important consideration, particularly in the

"THROUGH SERVICE WE GROW"

Do Your Motorcar Shopping Early!

Have you decided what kind of car you are going to buy next month, or the month after that for the little vacation tour you have arranged?

You have?

Well, just how much will your plans be upset if you do not succeed in getting the car you want, when you want it?

Such questions are appropriate in view of a situation that automobile makers and dealers now declare exists in their industry. It is one that virtually insures disappointment for those who now know they are going to buy cars sometime in the late spring or summer, but who are putting off the actual giving of orders. It is not going to be possible this year to order a motorcar in May or June with any assurance of having it delivered within the week. It will be more usual to obtain what you have ordered a month or two later—which is disturbing to vacation plans, to say the least.

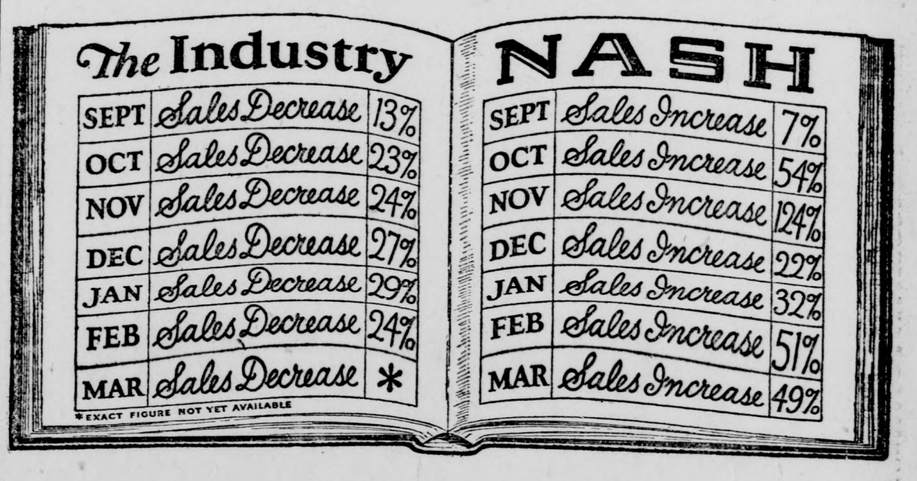
There are several reasons for this.

One is that manufacturers are watching so that they will not be caught in the trap of over-production. They have had enough experience with that. They have been keeping output down to a close relation with the actual ordering of cars by consumers. A certain margin in advance of current requirements has been made during the winter months, in anticipation of great demand in the spring and summer, but it is narrower than in previous years. Cars in warehouse are not plentiful enough to care for all the wants that will develop, and current production is being determined by actual orders.

Another reason is that dealers, whose operations are limited by bank credits, cannot undertake, on the mere ground of speculation over future demand, to make arrangements for handling more than a certain number of cars, in order that they may be sure of procuring for the buyer any make of car within a few days of the time it is actually wanted, they must have advance notification. Then, on the basis of definite orders in hand, they can arrange for financing a sufficient number of automobiles to meet the demand.

From the viewpoint of the automobile business, such a program is a sound one, and one which those who are interested in the healthy condition of the business cannot help but approve. The motorcar industry is being taken more and more as a barometer of general prosperity, and is, therefore, one whose solid situation is of interest to everyone.

Meanwhile, the tip that the motorcar user should take from the situation, if only for his own satisfaction, is found in the advice: Do your motorcar shopping early.



—and Figures Don't Lie

On the other hand Nash sales are monthly sweeping far beyond the records for last year.

It is a dramatic and convincing national tribute to the downright superiority in beauty, in performance, and in value of the Nash product.

ALIENISTS GIVEN JOLTS BY COURT

'Expert' Testimony Would Be Limited by Law In Illinois District

O. L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

CHICAGO, April 9.—"Expert" testimony of psychiatrists, alienists and nerve specialists, which nowadays clutters up almost every trial of consequence, after receiving one severe shock here is headed towards further troubles.

The demand is now being made that the State Bar association and the State Medical association take steps to limit the extent to which members of the legal and medical professions may go in parading cooked-up testimony in court for a fee, in order to influence justice.

Jolt number one came the other day when Drs. James Whitney Hall, A. E. Holstead and J. S. Coulter, testified point-blank that they had examined D. J. Donahue and found him paralyzed on his right side. "Donahue" was suing the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad for $40,000 for supposed personal injuries.

After this testimony of the learned "experts"—one of them known for his appearance in famous trials—"Donahue" tossed away his crutches, took the crook out of his back with a jerk and then danced a jig for the court. He turned out to be D. J. Scarlan, an investigator for the railroad, out to uncover what the railroads have since claimed to be a wholesale syndicate for pressing personal injury claims.

Attorney Fined

The mere fact that Scarlan then received a sentence of sixty days in jail for contempt of court and his attorney was fined $500 besides having disbarment proceedings started against him, didn't alter the facts as to the quality of the "expert" testimony being given in present day trials.

Circuit Judge Harry Fisher administered jolt number two to the doctors when he severely rebuked them saying that they "could not escape culpability for gross and inexcusable carelessness." They had gone a little too far in finding a perfectly well man paralytic.

At the same time, the railroad attorneys claim, their hoax resulted in showing up the activities of a ring which lives off the personal injury claims against railroads. They intimated that attorney W. W. McCallum, the attorney fined $500 for his part in the Scanlan case, and his brother, James A. McCallum, fined along with the attorney, are pushing the claims business.

And now jolt number three for these experts is under way with the call for a revision of the practice which permits scientists to wield the influence they do in court.

PAUL G. HOFFMAN GIVEN HIGH POST

Los Angeles Man Appointed Vice President For Studebaker Corp.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The directors of the Studebaker Corp., elected Paul G. Hoffman as vice president in charge of sales to succeed H. A. Biggs, resigned. Mr. Hoffman entered the employ of the Studebaker Corp., in 1911 as a salesman in Los Angeles. In 1915 he was made sales manager of the Los Angeles retail branch, and in 1917, branch manager of the Los Angeles district.

He served in the artillery division of the army in 1917-18, and upon leaving it in March, 1919, purchased from the corporation its retail business at Los Angeles and became a Studebaker dealer on his own account. The Paul G. Hoffman Co., starting business with $60,000 capital, now has $1,500,000 assets.

Mr. Hoffman has been quite active in the civic affairs of his city. For the past two years he has been president of the Traffic commission, a voluntary organization of business men formed for the purpose of studying measures of relief from traffic congestion, including re-routing of streets and city planning. He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of its roads committee, also a director of the California Bank of Los Angeles.

8 NEW CLASS 'A' BROADCASTERS

Commerce Department Puts Trio of Stations on First Listing

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The addition of eight new class A stations to the country's broadcasters, the placement of WMCA, the McAlpin hotel station at New York on the 310.7 meter wave length and the transfer of KOB, the New Mexico college of agricultural and mechanical arts from class C to class B, were the principal changes made on the air by the department of commerce this week.

In changing to class B, KOB has raised its power to 750 watts and will transmit on 348.6 meters. WMCA after experimenting on the 340.7 meter wave expects to continue so arranging its programs that they will not conflict with those of other metropolitan stations.

Of the newcomers, three are licensed to transmit on 100 watts, namely WDBK, Cleveland, WBOQ, Richmond Hills, N. Y., and WIBC, St. Petersburg, Florida. WDBK has been assigned to the 227 meter wave length; WBOQ to 236 meters and WIBC to 222 meters. WIBC will be used principally as an experimental station, it is understood, supplementing the programs from WAHG.

The five other new class A stations are: WHBX, Punxsutawney, Penn., fifty watts, 212.6 meters; KFJZ, Fort Worth, Texas, fifty watts, 254 meters; WHBY, St. Robert's college, West De Pere, Wis., fifty watts, 250 meters; WHBV, Columbus, Ga., twenty watts, 244 meters, and KFVI, Headquarters Troop, Fifty-sixth Cavalry, Houston, Texas, ten watts, 248 meters.

SELLING AIR TIME HITS BIG SLUMP

Purchasers of Time, Waves Gradually Drop Off, Capital Reports

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Selling time on the air, which has never been a very successful business in Washington, appears to have hit a decided spring slump in the capital.

WCAP, of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., which operates under the same policy as WEAF, of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., New York, has lost one of its regular weekly customers, the L. A. Java orchestra. Other purchasers of the WCAP time also have indicated that they intend to discontinue the service during the summer.

As a result, WCAP has shortened its broadcasting hours and has turned to local talent for much of its entertainment material.

President Coolidge returned to the microphone last Monday night for a brief talk to the national association of cotton manufacturers through a four-station hook-up headed by WCAP, and including WEAF, New York, WOO, Philadelphia, and WEEI, Boston. The president's address was made at the eleventh hour and was delivered to the smallest radio audience that Mr. Coolidge had spoken to since assuming office.

Arctic Cruise

A flood of applications for the position of radio operator aboard the Bowdoin during her cruise in the Arctic this summer is expected. According to Commander E. F. MacDonald, chairman of the National association of Broadcasters who is supervising the radio installation for the MacMillan expedition, volunteers for the job will be asked within a short time.

An indication of the elaborate program for the coming international radio conference which will be conducted in Washington this year was indicated today when it was disclosed that approximately $40,000 of the appropriation made for the parley will go for printing. This amount is only slightly less than the amount used for printing during the Armament conference. French and Spanish will be used at the conference as well as English. So far no official invitations to the world powers have been issued by the state department. It was said today that informal inquiries were proceeding.

PAINT TRADE BOOMS

CLEVELAND, April 9.—A. D. Joyce president of the Gliddon Co., paint manufacturers, reports the company did the largest business in the past month of any similar period in its history. Sales for the past four months increased $1,800,000 over the corresponding period of last year and net profits gained 110 per cent.

RAINS AID COTTON

FORT WORTH, April 9.—Recent rains have resulted in a decidedly improved outlook for the Texas cotton crop. Planting has not yet become general, but widespread activity in this line is reported from scattered sections.

Urges Charles Jones For City Treasurer

Editor The Glendale News—I wish to add through the columns of your paper a word in support of the candidacy of Charles E. Jones for the elective office of treasurer of the city of Glendale. I have been a resident of Glendale for over four years and have seen it expand in that time from a city of approximately 20,000 inhabitants to one closely approaching one of 60,000 inhabitants, so Glendale is no longer in its swaddling clothes. It has grown to manhood and needs the services of men of unquestioned ability and integrity to manage its affairs.

To the careful observer and more especially to the taxpayer, this means that more care must be taken in the selection of reliable, capable and conscientious men than heretofore, if the city's affairs are to be properly administered.

I have observed Mr. Jones since his residence in Glendale and know him to be free from any affiliation with any clique or bloc that have in the past exploited the city or attempted to exploit it in their own personal interests. In a word, Mr. Jones comes clean to the voters of Glendale, and if elected he will discharge the duties of the office with an eye single to the best interests of the city. I knew Mr. Jones back in Ohio for a number of years, during a portion of which time he held responsible positions with the Western Union Telegraph Co., in charge of its finances at various times, and during the trying times of the World war, when the affairs of that company were taken over by the government, Mr. Jones was selected for the discharge of increased financial responsibilities. In the discharge of these he displayed marked efficiency and did credit to himself. Also in connection with other interests Mr. Jones has discharged responsible duties; for example, as secretary and treasurer of the Kent Run Oil and Gas Co., an Ohio institution. As an officer in various Masonic bodies it has been my pleasure to meet and know Mr. Jones and it is now my pleasure to attest to his competency and ability to discarge the duties of city treasurer of Glendale. If elected he will prove himself to be a veritable "watchdog" of the city's finances.

'Golf Widows' Organize Moonlight Fishing Club

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—If husbands can play golf until the evening shadows fall, why should not their wives go a-fishing?

Restive under the strain of cooking suppers that are not eaten by their golf-crazed spouses, twelve "golf widows" under the leadership of Mrs. I. W. Sherman of 3155 Franklin boulevard, have formed a fishing club, restricted in membership to those whose husbands devote their evenings in manicuring the golf grounds.

Today the "Golf Widows' Fishing club" staged its first fishing excursion on the banks of the Sacramento river. Twelve women enthusiasts with the rod and reel fished diligently and long, returning as the moon rose with four striped bass averaging six pounds each.

Indian Ruler Takes to Spinning Yarn Clothes

MYSORE, India, April 9.—The Maharaja of Mysore, ruler of this Southern India state, is the latest recruit to the Ghandi cult of spinning yarn by the hand in order to be able to wear home-made clothes. He spends half an hour every morning in his cotton spinning, and his ambition is to wear a cloth made by himself.

The amazing growth of this cotton-spinning craze is reflected in the fact that the Indian National assembly now insists on every member sending in 2,000 yards of yarn a year as his subscription.

Five Weddings Delayed By Inquisitive Bullock

NORWICH, England, April 9.—Five brides fled in terror and five bridegrooms had a dramatic opportunity of proving their mettle when a bullock dashed into the local justices of the peace office just as the five couples were about to be married.

The vows were just about to be said when a tremendous clatter was heard in the outer offices, and the next instant the bullock was in the inner office, while the registrar, his assistant, and the prospective brides fled. The husbands, evidently thinking that discretion was the better part of valor, wisely withdrew, and the marriages were celebrated later when the bullock had been captured.

Ask The Owner of a Year-Old Chrysler Six How it Performs

Products like the Chrysler Six, that create first-year production records in the effort to satisfy demand, naturally cause an upheaval.

Results that upset all the well-established conceptions of quality manufacture, performance, economy, riding and the engineering of space, are subjected to the closest scrutiny.

The Chrysler Six has been in the hands of owners something more than a year. Its new results are a matter of record; but it is equally important for you to know the proved endurance of the Chrysler, that it continues to perform brilliantly.

The proper source of such testimony is the owner. The important fact you will discover if you will make such inquiry is that a year-old Chrysler Six performs with the same brilliance, eagerness and zest as it did 12 months ago when it electrified its purchaser.

New results? Yes, and stamina and endurance as the records now show. We are always eager to demonstrate Chrysler results and we are particularly glad of an opportunity to show you that it is the best built car on the market today.

BEAUTY CONTEST WON BY PACKARD

Retired Navy Officer Parks Car In European City, Unwitting Winner

Americans more and more are taking their automobiles with them to England and using them to tour the continent, according to William H. Daniel, president of the Dixie Motor Co., 1129 South Brand boulevard.

One of the recent converts to this mode of travel through Europe, is Capt. G. R. Edie, Washington, D. C., retired United States navy officer. Capt. Edie won an automobile beauty contest with his car at Touquet when, because there was no other place to park, he was forced to enter the contest with his Packard.

Judges awarded him first place despite the stains of travel on his Packard with which he had just driven 180 miles.

Allocation Of Road Funds Is Advocated

Asks Question

This is well demonstrated in Los Angeles county where the construction of Riverside drive and a truck highway along the Los Angeles river will necessitate the building of a new state highway connecting with the coast and ridge routes. But not until these projects are near completion is it necessary for the state to act.

Senator Daniel Murphy, banker and labor leader of San Francisco, interrogated Chief Engineer R. M. Morton relative to estimates made in the committee of nine report on California's highways. He wanted to know if their estimate of $216,000 was accurate.

Morton, naturally, had to make an analogy to an architect estimating the cost of a building by comparative figures. He would not know what the window frames, or curtains would cost, at the time the building was constructed. Therefore he might effect large savings, or find that with liberal allowances he was short the sum needed to complete the structure. Any person experienced in building can readily see what a problem labor and materials present.

Allocation Urged

The writer believes the hearing brought out the necessity for an annual allocation of funds, but if highways are to be budgeted two years in advance the state is going to suffer the same consequences a business man does when he buys his goods out of season.

Also, it is apparent that the State Highway commission should be increased to five in number with two from the south, two from the north and one member representing the federal government, preferably a retired army officer living in the state. In that way equality without too much politics would prevail.

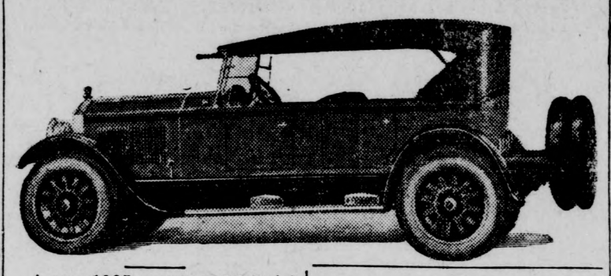
And there is no question but what highways have been and will be a political question if some move is not made to eliminate the "pork barrel" appropriations. Certainly, Governor Richardson cannot be accused of promising roads, but it was the fact that his predecessor's machine hoped to get certain highways that has caused present difficulties, the hearings have revealed.

Pennsy Taxes Gas One Cent To Build Roads

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 9.—The House of Representatives today passed finally the 1-cent emergency gasoline tax measure, the money received from which is to be used for construction of roads. The measure continues the emergency tax of 1923, which would have expired on July 1. The bill now goes to the Senate for concurrence. It is estimated it will raise a revenue of approximately $9,500,000.

Valuable Prize Is Offered

One of the prizes to be awarded at the Oakmont Country club bazaar Saturday and Sunday nights will be this 1925 sport model Buick touring car, from TANNER & HALL, INC.



A new 1925, sport model Buick touring car will be given away at the bazaar at Oakmont Country club on Friday and Saturday of this week. The awarding of the automobile is made possible through Tanner & Hall, Inc., agents for the Buick car in Glendale.

Tickets for the bazaar may be obtained from club members, at the office of the club. Mrs. A. L. Baird has charge of the distribution of the tickets. The winners will be determined on Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock and the names will be published on Monday.

Another valuable prize to be given away during the bazaar is a lot at Frazier Mountain park, offered by A. L. Baird. the winner of this will be announced at 12 o'clock Saturday night. Winning numbers of both prizes will be announced in The Glendale Evening News on Monday. Mrs. Max Green is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the bazaar and will be assisted by a large number of assistants who will have charge of the various booths.

Among the booths will be fish pond, grocery booth, fancywork booth, candy booth, fortune telling booth, buffet, dancing concession, tearoom, ice cream cones, perfume booth, cooked food booth, miscellaneous booth, and music booth.

Mrs. Harold R. Skeath, chairman of the entertainment committee has announced that she will present novel entertainment during both nights of the affair. Miss Laura LaPlante, motion picture star will be present in person at both nights of the bazaar. The purpose of holding the bazaar is to provide funds for the building of a swimming pool at Oakmont Country club.

NEW JEWETT SIX DISPLAYS CLASS

Late Model Considered Best Performing Car Of All Similar Types

The new Jewett Six was announced to the public at the various automobile shows throughout the United States as the best performing automobile in its class. The Paige-Detroit Motor Co., its builders, to back up this assertion, asked its dealers' organization to demonstrate the car in competition with its rivals wherever possible.

The result, Harry M. Jewett, president of the company, informed D. R. Tompkins of the D. R. Tompkins Motor Co., 219 West Colorado street, Glendale dealers, has been a country-wide demonstration of the performing qualities of the Jewett Six, in many instances before large audiences.

The Thompson Motor Co., of Tulsa, Okla., was among the first to start the demonstrations. It challenged every dealer in the city to a competitive high speed and low speed in high gear hill-climb. Six dealers accepted the challenge and the new Jewett won easily in the presence of over 3000 spectators, according to a report received at the factory.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR CHRYSLERS

History of Firm Outlined At Dinner For Workmen Of Local Concern

In spite of the fact that five great factories are working at full time to keep abreast of the orders that are pouring into the Maxwell-Chrysler Motor Co., the firm is hard-pressed to keep pace with the demands for the two cars. This announcement was made by Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 west Colorado street, local dealers, at a banquet at the Sunset Canyon Country club on Monday night, when the company entertained thirty-five members of the sales office and shop forces and their wives.

"The policy of the Maxwell-Chrysler organization," declared Mr. Clark, "is to keep abreast of the dealer demand, and not to be led into the pitfall of over-production and then expect the dealers to dispose of the surplus. Fair treatment of the dealers is the keynote of the Chrysler plans, and we must do our share to insure these plans the success that they deserve."

History of Firm

The ideals at the foundation of the Chrysler success were told by Mr. Clark, who traced the growth of the firm under the management of Walter P. Chrysler and predicted that still greater success lies ahead of both manufacturer and dealers in the coming year.

C. E. Harvey, Southern California supervisor, gave an interesting account of the workings of the Maxwell-Chrysler group of factories and the principles that animate the heads of the concern in their efforts to build the best possible automobiles for the people of America. "The future of the Chrysler plant," declared Mr. Harvey, "is brighter than at any other time since that wizard of the industry, Walter P. Chrysler, assumed the management."

An inspiring address on loyalty and service was delivered to the guests by Perry B. Arnold, head of the Arnold Sales Training Institute of Los Angeles.

VIKING TIRES GET BEST OF SERVICE

Unconditional Guarantee Is Given by Glendale Dealer Smith

An unconditional guarantee of 15,000 miles on Viking Safety Cord tires is a decided factor in the purchase of automobile tires, says Irwin Smith, proprietor of the Smith Tire Co., 239 South Brand boulevard. These tires may be purchased as low as $1 a week states Mr. Smith, and it is surprizing what a short time it takes to pay for a set of tires.

The reception of Viking Tires in Glendale has been wonderful claims Mr. Smith. Every motorist whom we have sold tires to has recommended us to his friends and it is most pleasing to know that we have the exclusive agency for a tire that makes and keeps friends like the Viking.

PHONE CALL GETS TOW CAR SERVICE

National Auto Club Gives Help In Any Part of United States

A phone call and a tow car will be on the way. That's National Automobile club service.

The organization, national in scope, furnishes free state-wide service to members. It is represented in Glendale by a number of prominent firms, including Gilhuly & Russell, 600 South Brand boulevard; Hayward & McCartney, 142 South Brand boulevard; Ingledue Realty Co., 109 South Glendale avenue; Tate Mortgage-Realty Co., Wilson and Orange streets; Roy D. King, 616 East Broadway; James M. Rhoades & Son, 106 East Wilson avenue; C. E. Kimlin Co., 225 West Broadway and Suburban Realty Co., Inc., 508 South Brand boulevard.

There are more than 700 service cars operated by the club in Southern California. When a member's car is disabled through an accident, mechanical breakdown, or is stuck in the sand or mud, in need of emergency roadside repair service, or out of oil or gasoline, a tow car is sent. Lady drivers are given tire changing service as well.

EXPERTS HANDLE AUTO PAINTING

J. W. Prough, Direct Factory Man With Studebaker Co., Is Now With Dura

The Dura Auto Painting Co., 537-39 West Garfield street, owned and operated by F. O. Jacobs claims to have two men who are experts on auto painting jobs. J. W. Prough is in charge of the production department and is a direct factory enamel man having been connected with the Studebaker Automobile Co.

Mr. Jacobs says that since opening his place of business around January first, he was careful not to employ anyone but thoroughly competent men who know high grade workmanship.

Dura auto finish says Mr. Jacobs will positively add lasting beauty to a car, it is a finish that rain, mud or dust cannot dull and has a permanent soft sheen that adds to the appearance of anyone's car.

MAIL ORDER SALES

CHICAGO, April 9.—Sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. increased nearly $3,300,000 in March as compared with February, despite lower farm commodity prices. March sales totalled $16,019,000.

Just how thoroughly Rev. R. R. Brown, radio pastor of station WOAW, is appreciated by his Sunday morning listeners is strikingly evidenced by the hundreds of gifts he has received regularly from members of his radio congregation. Country eggs by the dozens, honey, bulging hams, candy, cakes, of the best home-made variety; pictures, brooms, and numerous other articles are some of the means by which his listeners have shown their admiration and affection.

As a grand climax to these individual gifts a concerted token of appreciation from 50,000 of his listeners has been presented to Pastor Brown in the form of a glistening new Nash Advanced Six sedan. The car came as a complete surprise to Rev. Brown and he was almost overcome with gratitude and delight. The Nash is handled in Glendale by the McDaniel Motor Co., 1234 South Brand boulevard.

AUTO PAINT SHOP BUSINESS BOOMS

Gene Morris' One-Day Plan Popular Throughout Entire South

The recent automobile show held on South Brand boulevard, resulted in C. H. Arbenz, the original Gene Morris One Day Auto Paint Shop, 747 South San Fernando road, having the largest week's business in its history during the week following the show. Mr. Arbenz attributes the fine showing of business recently to the new Moco finish which is so popular in Southern California.

Mr. Arbenz entered the auto painting business, obtaining the Glendale franchise for Gene Morris' Original One Day Auto Painting process just fifteen months ago and he states that Glendale has in every way come up to his expectations and even more so as the city has made a remarkable growth since he first opened up shop.

Moco is the wonder finish according to Mr. Arbenz and is being offered at a surprisingly low price to the motorists who want a real discriminating paint job. Mr. Arbenz states that it is gratifying to note that more and more of Glendale's fine cars are finding their way to his place and they are getting satisfaction of the highest type.

CORRECTS RUMOR ON PRICE OF CAR

President of Nash Motor Co. Issues Statement on New Ajax Model

A definite statement by C. W. Nash, president of both the Nash Motors Co., and its subsidiary, the Ajax Motors Co., received by Charles McDaniel, head of the McDaniel Motor Co., 1234 South Brand boulevard, distributor for Nash cars, serves to correct a mistaken belief which seems to have gained widespread acceptance in connection with the price of the Ajax, the new car to be produced by the Ajax Motors Co.

This report credits the Ajax with being built to enter into competition with the very low priced field whereas the truth of it is that, although the Ajax is to be a car of moderate size, it will be a quality car throughout and one thoroughly in keeping with the high standards of manufacture inseparably associated with the name of Nash. Referring to this erroneous impression, Mr. Nash said:

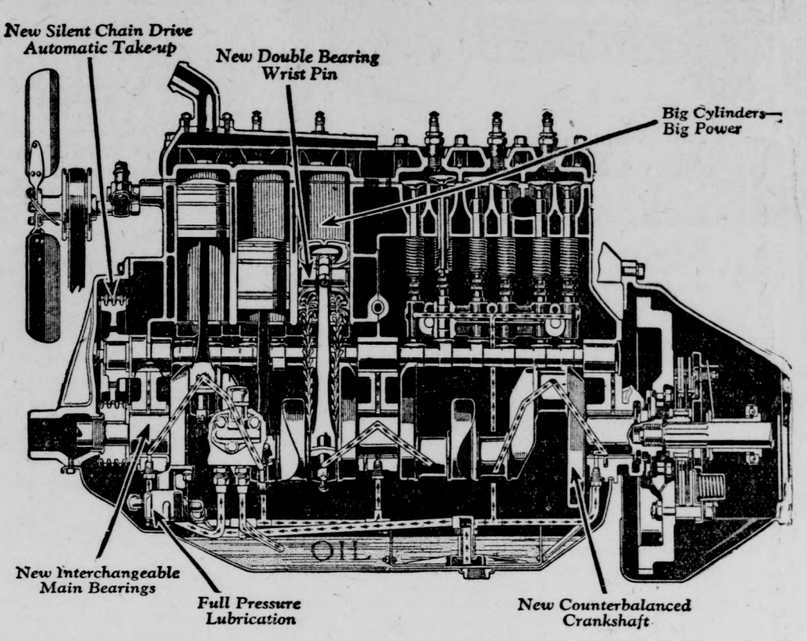
"Repeatedly during my travels about the country addressing dealer meetings since the New York show I have encountered a rumor that the Ajax is to be a cheap car," he said. "I presume that this idea sprung from the fact that it is generally known that the Ajax is to be produced on a large volume basis. While at this time I am not in a position to disclose the exact price at which the Ajax will be sold I can guarantee that it will not be a cheap car but on the contrary a product of genuine quality in every detail and feature although naturally lower in price than any of the Nash models.

Have Good Start

"As a matter of fact, it will be the embodiment of the very best things the entire industry has developed since its inception. Every circumstance attending its design and manufacture places us in an unusual position to produce a car which will bring to its price level quality features in design and construction immediately recognizable as new to its field.

"We enjoy the enormous advantage of starting in a plant which is completely revamped to meet the latest ideas in factory layout and we are not hampered by the necessity of utilizing any machinery of obsolete type since all of the machinery and equipment of the Ajax plant is the very newest to be secured and is of the most efficient and advanced character inventive genius has devised for motor car manufacture."

25% More Power in New Jewett Motor



THE Jewett Motor improved. It seemed impossible. For few motors of any type or size have equalled Jewett's amazing past performance.

Records on hill and track, established 3 years ago by the first great Jewett Motor, still stand—unchallenged by any car.

But even this remarkable performance was not enough. Months of research and testing have now produced this new—greater Jewett Motor. A motor so smooth—so quiet—so vibrationless at all speeds that you will scarcely hear it. Yet with power that seems limitless. 25% more than the old Jewett without increasing the size.

Study this motor! Ask the Paige-Jewett dealer to show you these remarkable improvements. Then take the wheel of a new Jewett and make your own test. Five minutes will prove all we say.

"NERVES" WARN OF "DANGER AHEAD!"

As the screeching siren warns of the oncoming ambulance, so do neuritis, nerve pains, neuralgia give warning of approaching danger. Slowly and surely the grim tragedy of nervous breakdown stalks malignantly towards many who suffer at first only the sharp, darting pains which signal that the nerves are in trouble.

Many in vain have sought relief with the most approved remedies heretofore known to science. It remained for an eminent San Francisco physician to discover in the science of Homeopathy the basis of what has since proved to be an effective treatment for neuritis, neuralgia, nerve pains and other conditions of "nerves."

This remarkable discovery is now available and is incorporated in what are now known as Eopa Neuritis Tablets. These harmless tablets contain no narcotics or bromides, and their action is to give safe, sure relief and to tone up and revitalize the entire nervous system. At the very first suggestion of "nerves," gain relief with Eopa Neuritis Tablets. Your druggist will recommend them.

Dear Mr. Rhoades:

Please accept this letter as a token of my hearty appreciation of your untiring efforts and of the most splendid work done by yourself as Secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce during the year of my office as President.

I assure you, Mr. Rhoades, that it has been a great pleasure to work with you and as I look back over the conditions a year ago, when you took up this work, and compare them with the existing conditions today, I congratulate myself on having had so capable and efficient a Secretary. Well do I realize the difficulties you have had to overcome and fully appreciate the fact that practically all of the planning and work has been left to you—all of which has been done in a most satisfactory manner.

Please allow me, Mr. Rhoades to thank you for the splendid service rendered during our year of work together and if at any time I may assist you in any way it will be a great pleasure for me to do so.

Yours sincerely,

To Whom it may Concern:

It is seldom that I am asked to give a letter of recommendation that gives me as much pleasure and that I can give so wholeheartedly as I can give one for Mr. James M. Rhoades who has been for the past two years Secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Having been a Director since the Chamber of Commerce started in Glendale and President the past year, I feel qualified to judge of Mr. Rhoades' work here. I have found him at all times efficient, courteous, a tireless worker and well able to handle the work that falls to him.

The record of our Chamber of Commerce is the best recommendation that I could give him. Mr. Rhoades took over the work two years ago, just as we had reorganized and we had at that time three hundred paid up members—today we have nine hundred paid up members, and he has been instrumental in bringing a great number of industries to our City in addition to many families.

He takes upon himself a large amount of detail that would necessarily fall on the Directors and to those of you who have held that position, this means a lot. Should Mr. Rhoades decide to take up work elsewhere, it would be with profound regret that I would see him go and I would feel that we have lost a very valuable man from our community.

Very truly yours,
THE GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
VM:BP (Signed) V. M. Hollister, President.

MASS MEETING ON COUNCIL TONIGHT

Councilman Candidates Will Be Present At Harvard High Gathering

Called by the Glendale Municipal league, of which H. V. Adams is president, a mass meeting will be held at the Harvard High school auditorium, Harvard near Brand, tonight, starting at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of seeing and hearing candidates for the City Council. There are twenty-one candidates and all of them are invited to attend, stated President Adams. The call for the meeting was published in the Glendale Evening News on Tuesday, April 7, being signed by President Adams, who issued the following additional statement today:

"Tonight at 8 o'clock the big meeting of the local campaign will be held in the auditorium of Harvard High school.

"The voters will look the candidates in the eye, will sound the ring of their voices, will read the very pose of their bodies, and mayhap catch deeper meanings than words can convey. This judgment of the common people was trusted by Lincoln, and they trusted him.

"There will be no endorsement of any man or set of men tonight, except this silent judgment which betrays its conclusions next Tuesday.

"The bigger the crowd, the more successful the meeting. This meeting is called by the Glendale Municipal league."

Jazz Girl Faints At Verdict Of Insanity of their decision but one member said "all factors were taken into consideration."

William M. Klink was the foreman of the jury.

As it filed in he held the written verdict in his hands and in response to Judge Louderback's question:

"Have you reached a verdict?" the jurors answered collectively: "We have."

"Listen to your verdict as read by the court," said the judge as the paper was handed to him and he read:

"We jurors in the above case find the defendant, Dorothy Ellingson is insane."

As the words insane were uttered Dorothy collapsed.

Supported by a matron and an officer, Dorothy was led back to the county jail twenty minutes after the verdict was returned. Her face was ashen and her limbs seemed unable to support her. Judge Louderback declined to indicate what institution he would commit her to.

"May God forgive them. He will punish them for this."

These were the only words of Dorothy as she was taken back to the county jail.

An hour and a half after sentence was passed she had calmed somewhat and ceased crying. She was immediately placed in bed at the jail.

She firmly holds the opinion she is sane and that she will so be found in the institution and sent back for trial. "Then," she said, "this will all have to be gone over again."

She refused to talk to her father, saying she did not wish to see him at this time. He did not insist.

The girl talked to her matrons, but would see no one else. Her jailors respected her wishes and excluded callers.

Senate Committee Returns Johnson Bill Without Recommendations

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to the Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The metropolitan water district bill, sponsored by Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, and which if passed will enable Glendale, Los Angeles, Pasadena and other cities to get water from the Colorado river, was passed out of the Senate committee on municipal corporations last night "without recommendations." The bill will go to the Assembly and House to be voted upon.

Senator Johnson's constitutional amendment on conservation, exempting from taxation young fruit trees, unbearing grapevines and immature timber, passed both houses and will go on the ballot at the next election.

The bill introduced by Assemblyman Frank C. Weller of Glendale, asking for $150,000 for rehabilitating at the Sonoma Home for Women, failed to secure enough votes to get out of the Assembly ways and means committee last night despite the support given the proposed measure by women's clubs throughout the state.

Condition Of Ruth Is Declared Serious

who had read reports of Babe's illness and wanted to see for themselves how bad he looked and offer him encouragement.

After Ruth collapsed in the washroom he was given spirits of ammonia by Dr. Murphy and revived.

While Dr. Murphy was working over Ruth, the Boston National league club arrived at the station from their southern training trip.

Members of the club including Rube Marquard and Jesse Barnes, helped the doctor attend Ruth. Mrs. Ruth, who had come to the depot in response to a telegram from her husband, was greatly distressed.

She went to the hospital. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. White of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Condition Serious

Six men went into the ambulance with Ruth, including Ed Barrows, business manager of the New York American league club.

At St. Vincent's hospital Ruth will be in the care of his personal physician, Dr. Edward King, who has known and attended him for nine years.

It was admitted at the hospital that the great ball player was in a very precarious condition.

RAIL CHIEF QUITS S. P. LEADERSHIP

Executive Committee Head Kruttschnitt Retires On Pension

NEW YORK, April 9.—Julius Kruttschnitt, veteran chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific railroad, will retire from that position on May 31 and will be succeeded by Henry W. DeForest, it was announced today. Kruttschnitt has reached the retirement age under the company's pension rule.

Many other changes in personnel were announced by the board of directors after their meeting here today. The authority of William Sproul, president of the company, has been extended over all the properties of the Southern Pacific lines, except Texas and Louisiana.

A vice-presidency was also created for the executive board. G. W. Mulks moves up from assistant controller to controller; Paul Shoupe, assistant to the president, becomes executive vice-president; T. M. Schumacher becomes vice-president in charge of traffic and Louis J. Spence has been made an executive officer with immediate charge of Southern Pacific Steamship lines.

A. H. Voelker, member of the dinner committee announced that all friends of Glendale realtors are invited to attend the dinner at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, starting at 6:30 o'clock Staurday night.

Leopold and Loeb Get Holiday of Eight Days

JOLIET, Ill., April 9.—Prisoners 9305 and 9306 became Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb again today when they deserted the state penitentiary shops for an eight days' vacation granted prisoners of Jewish faith annually for the celebration of the Passover.

It is the first respite of any duration the two boys, serving "life and ninety-nine years" for the murder of Robert Franks, have had since they entered prison last fall. During the holidays, the prisoners are virtually free from restrictions. A part of each day is devoted to religious services and the rest is given over to recreation during which the usual rules regarding conversation is lifted. Special meals are served apart from the other convicts.

Pioneer Shingles make safe roofs

A safe roof must be more than fire resistant. It must also withstand the beating sun, extreme cold and heavy rains and winds.

Flawless fire resistance is only a part of the function of Pioneer Yosemite Asphalt Shingles. Crushed stone, laid on asphalt, makes them 100% efficient. They prevent leakage that spoils plaster—eliminate seepage, that slowly warps and rots the very framework of the structure, and protect mansion and cottage alike. There is a specified type for every kind of roof and for re-roofing they go right over the old roof. Lumber, hardware and building material dealers sell them in red, green, blue black and golden brown.

Ahlmann Drug Co.'s Great Offer To Chronic Rheumatic Sufferers

Money Back If Allenrhu Fails To Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen. "I know that Allenrhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints.

"I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenrhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

"I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenrhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease."

Allenrhu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days—even in cases where the suffering has been most painful all traces have disappeared in a few days.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases.

With this understanding he has instructed Ahlmann Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to guarantee it in every instance.

FIGHTER'S STATUS IS UNDETERMINED

New York Commission May Give Hudkins Chance Instead Of Joe

NEW YORK, April 9.—James A. Farley, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, declined today to commit himself officially as to the status of Joe Benjamin, coast entry in the committee's lightweight elimination tourney, who was beaten by "Ace" Hudkins, Nebraska lightweight. Hudkins is not included among the tournament eligibles.

"The matter may come up for a decision next Tuesday," Farley said. "Unofficially, however," he added, "I will say that it is my understanding that any man who is beaten by a legitimate lightweight is automatically eliminated. Whether Hudkins then would be substituted remains for the commission to decide."

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Junior lightweight crown may be a pretty mythical one but it sure does produce fighting champs. In the short space of time in which it has been recognized no fewer than four men have held the title—Dundee to Bernstein, back to Dundee to Kid Sullivan to Mike Ballerino, the present holder.

The new champ has had a colorful career. As his name implies he is of Italian parentage, having been born in Bayonne, N. J., in 1901. He joined the army at the outset of the World war and was so light that the weight requirement was waived in his favor.

Shipped to the Philippines he developed into a rough and tumble battler among his buddies. Then he took the plunge into professional milling.

Pancho Villa, now world's flyweight champion, was the reigning sensation in the Philippines at the time and nothing would satisfy the islanders until the two were together.

They had it out on nine different occasions, in bouts ranging from six to fifteen rounds. And Villa is authority for the statement that Mike gave him the toughest bouts of his career.

Balerino showed his wares on the coast before coming east and held his own against the best of them. His first start in the east opened the eyes of the jaded fans who had grown tired of the jab and dance away type of fighter. His slam-bang type of milling and eternal swinging were welcomed and he got plenty of work.

In five years the Italian has taken on twenty pounds and seems to have struck his real fighting gait at his present poundage. Mike is not a knocker-out and there may be some junior lightweights who can take away his title, but title or no title he gives the fans a run for their money and that is what counts.

CHARLEY WEINERT TO FIGHT WILLS

Bout Is Set For June 19 At Polo Grounds; Articles All Signed Up

NEW YORK, April 9.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight and Charley Weinert of Newark signed today for a fifteen-round bout to be held at the Italian hospital fund show at the Polo grounds on June 19. Both Wills and Weinert defeated Luis Firpo, South American pugilist.

A great deal of ceremony attended the matching of the fighters, moving pictures being taken of the event. A luncheon was arranged for the participants.

Annual Boat Race To Be Close, Says Coach

BERKELEY, April 9.—"This year's race between the Huskies and the Bears will be a matter not of lengths, nor yards, but of feet and possibly of inches," according to the opinion today of Rusty Callow, coach of the University of Washington sweepsters who Saturday cross oars with the University of California over the Oakland Estuary course.

Mike McTigue Wants Too Much For Battle

NEW YORK, April 9.—Attempts on the part of promoters of the silk fund show to sign Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, were abandoned today following McTigue's demand for a guarantee of $65,000 win, lose or draw. It had been intended to use Paul Berlenbach, local knockout king, as McTigue's opponent.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 9.—William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, respective national champion and his runner-up in the national ranking list, are lost to the American Davis cup defense and tournament tennis in general for the season of 1925 unless there is a hurried revision of the player-writer rule. Richards today set at rest any doubt that might exist on the subject by declaring himself out from behind the net and in at the front of a typewriter. He added that he was merely echoing the sentiments of Tilden.

The latter, according to Richards, is confident that the United States Lawn Tennis association will rewrite the rule before the Davis cup issue comes to a head. If the association does not, neither Tilden nor Richards is likely to take a racquet in hand during the impending season except for exercise and purposes of exhibition.

"It all comes down to a question of our bread and butter," Richards said. "The association has passed a rule forbidding us to write a line on tournaments in which we are competing. That is just the time when our employers want our articles. Even if the employers were willing to abide by this condition, they couldn't be expected to pay our salaries while we play tennis. If I wanted the day off to go swimming, I couldn't expect to be paid for it. By the same token, I couldn't expect my salary to run on while I am away a week or ten days playing tennis. I am a married man and have more than myself to think of. Need I say more?"

The young man did, however. He added that he, for one, would not be a party to the American team that is supposed to be headed for Wimbledon this summer. Neither will Tilden, nor, for that matter, William M. Johnston, according to Richards. This statement lends color to the impression that the American invaders will just about represent the competitive strength of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Asked why Tilden, a member of the special committee that drafted the latest player-writer rule, rubber stamped the proposition when not in favor of it, Richards declared the American champion had no alternative. Six members of the seven-man committee favored the rule as drafted. Tilden, he said, merely climbed on the band wagon as a passenger, not as a musician.

TWO JACKS SPLIT, SAYS WILD RUMOR

Kearns And Dempsey Deny Any Break, But Reports Are Otherwise

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, are at the parting of the ways. While both today denied they had broken and declared they were "still in the fight business together," it was rumored a few days would bring a statement from them that they had severed relations.

At the same time it was equally apparent Dempsey has very slight chance of ever again defending his title.

"I don't think I'll get a fight this year and if I don't fight in 1925 I'll quit," the champion declared.

Midwick Polo Players Climb Nearer To Top

DEL MONTE, April 9.—Midwick Country club's polo team was another notch nearer the finals of the Pacific coast junior championship following their defeat yesterday of San Mateo, 8 to 7 in one of the closest games of the Del Monte season.

SENATORS WIN

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 9.—Washington defeated the New York Giants 8 to 7 here yesterday. The "spring world series" now stands five to four in favor of New York.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Spring games between major league clubs and between major and minor league clubs do not win championships, but they have their significance, sometimes. This year they have more than the usual significance. In some instances they seem almost prophetic, and perhaps their outcome augurs a future that will not be very pleasant for some of the clubs, though it will be pleasant enough for others.

Attention was called to the Chicago White Sox as one of the improved teams of the American league. The Sox are bearing out every prediction made for them. They are winning their games and they are coming through with more snap and spirit than they have shown for several years.

If the Sox win ten more games in the American league this year than they did last—and they expect to win at least fifteen more—they will upset the American league race on their own account. No other help would be needed, although plenty of help seems likely to be forthcoming.

If Eddie Collins is successful in applying the power that is in his team, the Sox are a first division possibility. That renders them stiff antagonists of Washington, New York, Detroit and St. Louis, who were the first division finishers of 1924. It also aligns them against the Philadelphia Athletics, who are confident they can finish in the first division, while the Cleveland club also has first division hopes.

The significant fact, however, is that the Sox thus early have aroused themselves from a condition that was manifest in 1924 and are an entirely different team from that which Evers tried to lead last season. The Yankees are not making fish and bones of the Brooklyn club on the way north. That is not without its significance. It is something which applies two ways.

It appears that the Brooklyns are in better trim than they were this time last year and that the Yanks are not having the easy going that they did last season. The Yanks have a hard job on their hands if they are to win the American league pennant. They have a fine ball club, but they are going to run up against opposition such as they never had before.

The Brooklyn pitching staff is shaping itself for a demonstration that will go a long way toward giving the Robins a place in the National league race. If the infield could compare with that of the Giants, Brooklyn would be a third party to the pennant chase, with the Giants and Pittsburgh as the parties of the first and second parts.

The Cleveland club has been referred to as the club with a punch. It has it. How far that punch will carry it is something to be established but in the games which have been played since the team left Florida, this organization has shown its ability to knock any ordinary team off its feet after the rival seemed to have the game won.

The Giants are progressing easily and are following form. It is true that they think Washington defeated them in the 1924 world series by luck, but that is not a very potent factor for discounting the efforts and success of Washington, as no club wins a championship unless it is blessed by luck.

However, the Giants are establishing the fact that they are exactly as dangerous as last spring and if they get away to a long lead at the expense of Philadelphia and Boston, the National league race will be a repetition of many that have gone before.

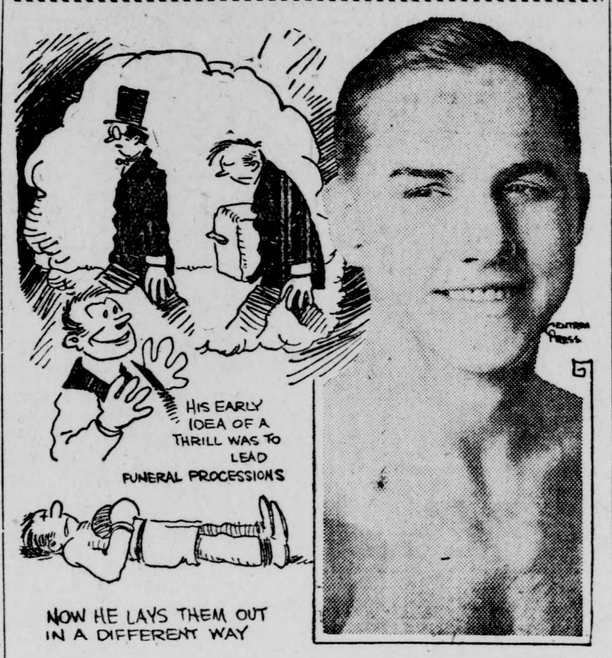
A stiff fight in the American league, and the same old situation in the National—the condition for 1925 indicated by the spring exhibition.

MASCART SIGNED

NEW YORK, April 9.—Edouard Mascart, French fighter, signed yesterday afternoon to meet Al Corbett of Cleveland in a twelve-round bout in Cleveland April 22. The men will meet at 126 pounds. This will be Mascart's first appearance in this country.

He Used to Carry 'Em Out

'ALLENTOWN' JOHNNY LEONARD, who studied to be an undertaker, has a new way of laying 'em out—he knocks 'em out, for he is one of the shining lights among the lightweight title contenders and has his own ideas of how to fight his way to the top.



ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 9.—It's a long shot from an undertaker leading a funeral procession to a contender for the world's lightweight championship, but Allentown Johnny Leonard has bridged the gap. His home is here, hence the name, Allentown Johnny Leonard.

But Johnny Leonard isn't his family name. Born in Czecho-Slovakia, his real name is John Lucotash. He has been boxing for seven years, but prior to two years ago hadn't been known outside the city limits of his own town. At least, not as a fighter.

Johnny's parents were poor and Johnny's father died a few weeks after the family's arrival in America. When he was 14 years old he went to work packing cement bags in one of the many cement mills near his home. Two years later he hired out as an undertaker's apprentice, and has been working at the trade ever since. He has an embalmer's license, and can hold his own with the best in the embalming profession.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, April 9.—Now that the professional and amateur golfers are beginning to wend their way north a retrospective glance over the best winter golf season that Florida and California have ever known is quite in order.

January was marked by the following noteworthy performances: At Hollywood in a foursome between Diegel and Sarazen and Tommy Armour and Bill Mehlhorn—which Sarazen and Diegel won—Gene broke the course record with a 67.

George K. Potts of New York won first place in the men's annual January handicap tourney at Ormond beach. MacDonald Smith retained the California open golf championship, doing 308 for 72 holes. C. H. Hartman of Chicago, won the championship of the winter league of advertising at Pinehurst.

Dorothy Campbell-Hurd on January 19 won the first tourney of the new women's golfing society, The Sharks, at Belleair, Florida.

Lawrence Sherrill of Tampa, won the first annual amteur invitation tourney held on the Rock Point links at Tampa. Stanley Thompson of Toronto won the St. Augustine amateur tournament.

Dorothy Campbell-Hurd defeated Mrs. Alex Smith in the final of the January tournament at Belleair, Fla. E. A. Watkins defeated Dan Jarvis of Nashville in the final for the Glenn Curtiss trophy at Miami. Arthur Yates, of Rochester, won the annual Lake Worth tourney at Palm Beach, on January 31.

February was marked by brilliant play throughout. Jack Davision of New York won the annual Miami Beach amteur golf championship. On February 4 Walter Hagen beat Cyril Walker, American open champion, in a three-day 72 hole match at St. Petersburg, Fla. And thus won the world's unofficial golfing championship. Lee Chase of New York won the annual February tourney at Miami Beach. F. N. Hoxey of Boston, won the St. Valentine's tourney at Pinehurst. On February 13 Miss Anne Merrill of Brookline won the St. Valentine tourney for women at Pinehurst. Al Watrous of New York won the South Center Golf title at Hot Springs, and Miss Miraim Hollins of New York won the annual Pebble Beach championship for women at Del Monte, California.

At West Palm Beach, Mike Brady and Tommy Armour beat Sarazen and Diegel in a 72 hole challenge match for a $10,000 purse.

Glenna Collett defeated Miss Edith Cummings and won the Florida's women's championship. John Golden of Paterson, N. J., won the Houston, Texas, open golf tournament. Leo Diegel won the Florida open title at Tampa. Mrs. Joseph Bydolek won the Miami women's golf title. Mrs. H. D. Sterrett won the Ormond Beach women's tournament.

The following foreign titles were won by Americans in February: Cuban championship, Eddie Van Vleck of Garden City; Bahama championship, W. F. Ladd, Rockaway Hunt club; Bermuda title, A. W. Biggs of Garden City.

Tommy Armour won the Florida West Coast open title at St. Petersburg. Chris Dunphy, the Washington amateur, won the Palm Beach amateur title. Dorothy Campbell Hurd won the Belleair women's title. Glenna Collett won the Florida East Coast title for women. Mary K. Browne, won the Southern California women's golf championship at Los Angeles. Stanley Thompson of Toronto won the Ponce de Leon trophy at St. Augustine. Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago, won the North and South women's title at Pinehurst.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Already the prediction of the writer concerning the influence of Nurmi upon distance running in this country is beginning to bear fruit. In fact, Nurmi's appearance in Milwaukee nearly a month ago was the occasion for the flashing of a youngster of whom the country is going to hear a lot before long.

He is that little fellow Shimek, of Marquette, whose great achievements of the winter season was the winning of the 1500 meters at the relays at Urbana about a month ago, defeating some of the crack eastern and western distance men.

Just now he is running the mile under 4.20 and will surely improve as the season goes on. He went through his high school days at Kenosha, without losing a race, won every event as a freshman at Marquette and finished second in the western conference cross-country race at Ann Arbor when he was in a convalescent condition following illness.

Mark Cattlin, the old Chicago university star, is adhering to his plan of not permitting his footballers to wear pads of any kind, not even a head guard, in the spring practice at Lawrence college.

Ace Hudkins Issues Defi To Fighters

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—"Ace" Hudkins, Nebraska boxer, today claimed the world's lightweight title and offered to post a $2500 forfeit to meet any lightweight in the country.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The most significant development in democratic national politics since the last election has been the triumph of Al Smith, Democratic governor of the state of New York, over a Legislature dominated by a Republican majority in both houses.

Not only are the Democrats in the empire state singing the praises of Al Smith but even in such a staunch Republican institution as the Union League club one finds a preponderant sentiment for Al Smith.

All this is due to the fact that Governor Smith knows the state of New York and its problems better than anyone else in the government and in this, his third term he has conducted himself with such skill, advocating measures of republican as well as democratic origin, that even such republican organs as the New York Herald-Tribune and the New York Sun have not failed to support him generously.

Smith's Victory

Whether Mr. Smith's victory, as the legislature comes to an end, is due to the lack of vision of the republican leadership in the state, or whether it is due to the governor's remarkable hold on public opinion, the fact is that the New York governor is ever so much stronger today than he was last November when in the face of an overwhelming vote for Mr. Coolidge and the election of the entire state republican ticket, he was for the third time elected governor, on the democratic ticket.

Governor Smith has insisted that after 21 years of service to the state he could have no ambition to be governor any longer and that in his place, his last term, he was acting for the interest of all the people and not politics. Using the radio frequently, addressing large audiences in person, and holding the support of the press in most cases because of his clear view of public questions, Al Smith has compelled a Republican legislature to follow him in many important projects. He out did the federal government, for example, by bringing about this year, as well as last, a reduction of 25 per cent in income tax.

GENERAL MOTORS

DETROIT, April 9.—Stocks of cars manufactured by General Motors in the hands of dealers now are approximately 70,000 less than at this time a year ago. General Motors is rigorously pursuing the policy of restricting dealers' stocks to a reasonable and prudent size. In spite of this output at General Motors plants is increasing.

NEW COAL PLANTS

BIRMINGHAM, April 9.—Commissioning of new plants by the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co. this month will add materially to the iron and steel payrolls of the district. Shipments of finished sugar mill machinery and supplies now are going forward to Cuba via Key West.

RADIO IN VAULT

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 9.—Radio station WOS announced that a letter from the First Savings bank of Palmyra, Mo., said a program from WOS had been received on a superheterodyne set placed inside the bank's vault.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton & Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

All this, however, was but the thought of an instant. His own intolerable position swept everything else from his mind. From where she knelt, Evadne could not fail to see him if he tried to slip out through the outer room into the corridor. In the studio itself, as far as he could see by the light which came dimly in through the door, there was no place of concealment other than the meager one which he already occupied. He could see no door indicative of a cupboard of refuge, no hangings behind which to hide; only a pair of muslin sash curtains fluttered now and then as the night wind blew in through the open window. That was the window which had been open the night of the murder when he had puzzled over the entrance and exit of the man with the limp. As his mind went back to this a thought came to him. Beneath this window, he remembered, was a projection of some sort, probably the roof of a bay-window belonging to one of the rooms or offices on the floor below. If he climbed out on this roof he would be securely hidden, as long, at any rate, as the darkness lasted. When Evadne was asleep he could climb back and escape by the way he had come. Or, again, once on the roof, he might find some way of scrambling down, some gutter-pipe, perhaps. He was good at climbing. Anything was better than his present position. He must take the chance while Evadne was not looking.

His eyes fixed on Evadne's kneeling figure, he stole out from the shelter of the easel. If she looked up, he might as well fling himself out of the window and be done with it. But her head remained bowed upon her hands. He reached the window in safety. There he was beyond her range of vision. He looked out. The roof was, as he remembered it, very small, a mere shelf, and slightly sloping.

Thanking heaven for Evadne's habit of leaving her window open, he slipped one leg over the sill and let himself cautiously down, hung a moment by his hands, then dropped. The distance was greater than he had supposed, and he landed with a reverberating thud. Somewhere, after a moment, a window opened, then another. He crouched low, hardly breathing. Would Evadne hear? He stared upward, cold with dread. No figure, however, appeared in the dimly lighted window above him.

One by one the windows which, somewhere had opened, closed again. All was still. He breathed easily once more. Then his eye traveled up over the smooth, unscalable wall which stretched above him, measuring it foot by foot, realizing, with sinking heart, that never could he travel back the way he had come. The window was as hopelessly beyond his reach as one of the distant stars that twinkled down on him. A sudden panic seized him. He saw himself crouching there till the protecting darkness lessened; till the cold light of day broke over him; till eyes grew at every window. The situation was desperate. Escape from it had to be found. If there was no way up there must be a way down. If not, then better be a mangled corpse on the stones below, tragic but dignified, than a detected thief, lost in Evadne's eyes and in the eyes of the world.

He crawled to the edge of the roof and looked over. The rim of a shallow gutter offered a grip for his hands. A gutter, he reasoned, predicated a gutter-pipe. He crawled till he found it. It was a tin affair, which had apparently rusted away a few feet below the roof. There was no escape for him in that direction. The lights which shone from the adjoining houses enabled him to get some idea of his surroundings. The roof to which he clung was, he saw, that of a shallow bay-window belonging to a small room on the lower floor, used, he remembered, as a breakfast room. Architectural effect had been ignored here; there was no cornice, the gutter dow sashes. By reaching down alone projecting above the win- he thought he could almost touch the panes. To prove it he stretched down his arm. But instead of glass, his hand met empty air. The window was open from the top. He scrambled to his knees. If that window was not too far open, if he could get a foot on the sash, then a hand—Sprawled on the roof, clutching the gutter rim, he swung one leg over into space, feeling for foothold. An instant of suspense that seemed endless—then his foot struck wood. The window, he calculated, was open about a foot from the top. Could he shove it down sufficiently to let himself through? Could he somehow, swing himself in? He worked the other leg over. For an instant he lay doubled up over the edge of the roof, his feet on the window sash, wondering what was to be his next move. No time was given his for planning, however, the window slowly sinking under his weight. There was nothing to do but to let himself slip down after it, inch by inch. Another instant and he would be hanging by his hands from the gutter, the sash gone from under his feet.

The thought of the stones below spurred him to action. Instinctively he loosened his hold of the roof with one hand, caught frantically at the window frame, balanced himself for a breathless instant on the descending sash, then, crouching, launched himself headlong through the opening into space.

As he came crashing down he was conscious that some one extinguished a light in the room he was invading. He heard a rustle of skirts and a startled cry, and, as he fell sprawling on the floor, his hand clutched a human foot, a foot in a soft cloth shoe. Then his head came in violent contact with some sharp object, and he knew no more.

When he came to himself, he found the room brightly lighted again, and Denis bending over him, bathing his head which ached badly. He struggled into a sitting position and grinned foolishly up at the old man. The room went whirling round him, and to steady himself he grasped the nearest object which happened to be the tufted arm of a sofa. This recalled to him his last conscious sensation—the feel of that small, cloth-shod foot. An impression remained with him of a surface smooth, yielding, unbroken—no buttons, no lacing. His mind was struggling to recall something suggested by the touch of that small, smooth foot. How his head ached! He tried to concentrate, to seize the elusive thought. Suddenly he caught it, held it—the little old woman with the rings and the congress gaiters! Of course, that was it! The shoe he had grasped was a congress gaiter.

He glanced round the room. Except for Denis and himself it was empty. He continued to sit on the floor for some minutes staring up at the old man. Denis would want to know how he came to be there; he must tell him something—but what? He wished his head didn't ache so confoundedly. The situation called for explanation. He tried to imagine what the John Graham of six weeks ago would have thought of it. Poor, dull, conventional prig, that was what he was, and never knew it. Thought he knew what life was, did he? Thought he knew what love was, poor fatuous fool! How sorry he was for him! Never had an adventure, poor chap, never been a housebreaker, never been a burglar, never had to explain situations—Graham pulled himself up. He mustn't let his mind drift off that way, it wouldn't do; he must concentrate. From his undignified position on the floor he looked up at Denis, who was hovering above him, a dish-towel in one hand, a bowl of water in the other, most of which, Graham was convinced, had already found its way down his neck. Again he thought of that earlier John Graham, and laughed feebly.

"Rather a fool thing to do, wasn't it?" he said.

"Well, sir, it was," replied Denis, indignantly. "'Twas out of my seven senses you had me scared. And I'll be making bold to ask you, Mr. Graham, what you were doing climbing out of Mrs. Hurst's window? You'll excuse me speaking, but it's me that's all there is to look after the family now."

"You are quite justified in asking for an explanation," allowed Graham. "I certainly chose an unusual way of ingress. You see"—what in thunder was he to make the man see? "You see"—suddenly his mind began to work again; he laughed in relief—"I was testing a theory of mine," he said briskly. "I had an idea that Mr. Hurst's murderer had escaped through the window in Mrs. Hurst's room.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND TOODLE'S LIFTER

Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the Hollow Stump School one day, on his way to the seven and eight cent store to do an errand for Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. The errand was to buy the muskrat lady housekeeper a gold plate.

"Of course, I know you can't get a real gold plate in the seven and eight cent store," Nurse Jane said with a laugh, "but they look like gold and will do me as well as if they were set with diamonds."

"I shall bring you one," promised Uncle Wiggily.

But when he reached the Hollow Stump School he looked at the clock and saw that he was quite early.

"I'll go in school and hear the animal children recite their lessons," said the bunny gentleman to himself, "and I shall still have plenty of time to hop to the store and buy Nurse Jane the gold plate she wants."

So Uncle Wiggily hopped inside the school, and the Lady Mouse Teacher was very glad to see him.

"Only you come at rather a sad time, Uncle Wiggily," she squeaked, for that was her way of talking.

"A sad time? What do you mean?" asked the bunny gentleman. "I hope the school isn't going to burn down, so the children will have no place to study."

"Not quite so sad as that," said the Lady Mouse. "But Toodle Flat-tail, the beaver boy, had his lifter out in school doing tricks with it, and he made the other pupils laugh. So Toodle must stay in."

"Oh no!" quickly said the Lady Mouse. "See, this is what Toodle calls his lifter. I had to take it away from him." The Lady Mouse held out a round, soft wet piece of leather, with a string through a hole in the middle.

"I know what that is," said Uncle Wiggily. "When I was a rabbit boy we used to call them suckers. You take a piece of leather, soak it in water until it is soft, after you put a strong string through the center, tying a knot in the end of the string so it won't slip out. Then, if you put the round piece of leather down on a flat stone or piece of glass, you press it flat with your paw, the lifter will stick to the stone, and you can pull the stone up by the string. That's what a sucker or lifter will do."

"Yes, Toodle was trying to lift up one of his schoolbooks that way, when I saw him and made him bring his sucker up to my desk," went on the lady mouse. "Outside of that, Toodle is a pretty good boy. But I shall have to keep him in after school."

Well, Uncle Wiggily heard the animal pupils recite their lessons—that is, all except Toodle, who had to stand in the corner. Then the bunny gentleman hopped on to the seven and eight cent store and bought the gold plate for Nurse Jane.

But alas! On his way home the plate slipped out of his paws and fell into a deep hole. The plate didn't break, but lay flat in the hole and, try as he did, Uncle Wiggily couldn't reach it to get it out.

"Dear me! What am I going to do?" he said aloud. "Nurse Jane will feel badly about me losing her gold plate. How can I get it up out of the deep hole?"

"I'll get it up for you, Uncle Wiggily," said a voice, and there stood Toodle Flat-tail, the beaver boy. "I have my lifter," he went on. "The Lady Mouse Teacher gave it back to me after she kept me in. I'll wet my leather sucker, lower it down on the plate, press on it with a long stick and then we can pull the plate up."

Surely enough, when the leather sucker stuck fast to the gold plate the new dish could be pulled up out of the hole by means of the string.

"Hurray!" cried Uncle Wiggily as he carried the plate to his bungalow. "I'm glad you made your lifter, Toodle, even if you did play with it in school. But you musn't do it again."

Toodle said he wouldn't. And Nurse Jane gave him a sugar cookie made of carrots for helping get back her gold plate. So everything came out all right. And if the kite doesn't try to wag its tail as fast as the clock ticks and get all tired out, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily cutting down a tree.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE FOR YOUNGSTERS

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across

Word 4. What the cow chews all day.
Word 5. A good shade tree.

Running Down.

Word 1. The zone around the north pole.
Word 2. To recover. To rescue or deliver from bondage or captivity.
Word 3. The ordinary or usual condition.

Week's Delay Granted In Arguments On Sale

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Justice Hitz, in district supreme court has granted a week's delay for presentation of arguments on the order restraining the shipping board from consummating the sale of five president type steamers to the Dollar Lines Steamship company.

The order originally was returnable April 13, but on motion of George Chamberlain, counsel for the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., seeking to halt the sale, the date was set back to April 20.

'WIZARD OF OZ' OPENING TODAY

Larry Semon In Leading Role To Be Seen At Gateway Theatre

After concluding a long engagement at a Los Angeles theatre, "The Wizard of Oz" comes to the Gateway theatre today and plays at this popular amusement place Friday and Saturday.

Larry Semon, who carries the title role, is ably supported by Charlie Murray, Bryant Washburn, Mary Carr and Josef Swickard. Larry Semon directs the production himself and it is taken from the story by Frank L. Baum.

It is a fantastic picture and appeals to everyone's better nature. Manager Loper states that he is very glad to be able to play pictures of this type in his theatre.

Thrills Galore

A feature replete with thrills, dripping with human understanding and crowded with as much action, foot for foot, as any picture of recent memory is now at the Glendale theatre, showing for the last time tonight. With it will also end the Glendale appearance of Dobrohofft's imperial balalaika orchestra, the last opportunity for local music lovers to enjoy the weird, native tunes of Russia produced by a group of fourteen of the most noted and talented musicians ever produced by that ill-fated country.

The film is Emory Johnson's sixth F. B. O. success, "Life's Greatest Game." As was the case in his five other successes, the director's mother, Mrs. Emilie Johnson, wrote the story; and it again attests her genius for melodramatic action.

Nothing Quite Like It

If there was nothing else of merit in the story, and that is as far from the truth as the North Pole from the equator, the shipwreck scene in which the ill-fated Titanic is sent to a watery grave after a collision with an iceberg is worth walking miles to see. Nothing quite like it has ever before been done on the screen. And this tremendous incident is woven into a well-knit story with a baseball background which will hold any audience to the last flash of light on the silver sheet.

Johnnie Walker, Thomas Santschi, Gertrude Olmsted and Jane Thomas all are excellent in their parts, as is the deep-dyed villain familiar to Emory Johnson fans in the person of David Kirby. Action which transpires around the baseball park was filmed at the Glendale grounds. It furnishes some delightful comedy as well as absorbing drama.

No higher tribute could be paid to the national game than the characterization of the Donovans, father and son, who prove heroes of world's series contests separated by the span of twenty years.

'MANNA' IS HELD OVER BY REQUEST

Holy Week Has No Effect On Attendance At Playhouse

Not only did the Wednesday night crowd at "Manna" more than meet expectations at the Glendale Playhouse, but the advance sale continues so strong that Mrs. Dobinson and Producer Fred Butler have decided to hold the play of faith over for another week.

Holy Week has had absolutely no ill-effect on the attendance; on the contrary, the second-week receipts, even with the Playhouse "dark" Tuesday night, will undoubtedly set a new standard for second weeks in the career of the Dobinson Players.

Word-of-mouth advertising is doing the trick. People are saying: "Go and see 'Manna,' by all means. It's a wonderful play and you can't afford to miss it." That is bringing people literally from far and near. The Hollywood contingent is steady every night, consisting of a very large representation; and Los Angeles is sending more and more people. Other towns in Southern California are also furnishing their quota.

Conditions Better

Undoubtedly better business conditions has had something to do with the steadily-increasing attendance at the Playhouse. The rains of the last few days have definitely decided that the state is to have a good crop year. The underground watercourses have been replenished, so there will be plenty of water and of electric current until the next rainy season.

This creates a spirit of optimism and is a factor in Dobinson Players' prosperity. But bigger factors are the gripping qualities of Manna—"Bread from Heaven;" the excellence of the cast; and the splendid direction of Fred J. Butler.

Not a performance passes but several people step up to Mrs. Dobinson and attaches of the Playhouse and say: "Where did you get your cast? I have never seen better acting." The answer is that those people live within a few miles of the Playhouse, and that each one was carefully chosen for the part he plays and then drilled in every slightest movement and in the inflection of every syllable by Producer Butler.

Every scene gets over with all its original punch and vigor because Mr. Butler, thirty years and more on the legitimate stage, knows what audiences want and how to give it to them. As producer for Morosco on this coast for more than two decades, he has produced some of the biggest successes in theatrical history.

Another feature which is noticeable is the stage direction of Joe Cox. Besides giving an unforgettable character bit as "Papa Schneider," Mr. Cox runs the play from behind the scenes. He encompasses all the details, so nothing is ever late or misplaced. The cues and the properties are correctly given and ready. Which adds wonderfully to the smoothness of the performance.

"Manna" will run all the rest of this week and all next week, with the usual Saturday matinee.

Spanish Class Opens In Glendale April 13

On Monday night, April 13, a free course in Spanish will be started at the Glendale Union High school on Harvard street. The advanced class will be from 7 to 8 p. m. and the elementary class from 8 to 9 p. m.

This class offers residents of Glendale a splendid opportunity to receive instruction in the Spanish language, admittedly of growing importance in this section of the country. The class will be in charge of Professor John Harthan, who is well-known in educational circles and is one of the professors of languages at the University of California.

The class is open to all and registration is made at the high school on Monday or Wednesday night.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, April 9.—Arrangements for Easter services at the cross on Mt. McGroarty have been completed. The committee in charge of the services consists of Rev. Edgar W. Pasko, pastor of Tujunga Community Methodist church; Rev. W. E. Smith, pastor of Sunland Baptist church; John S. McGroarty; John Wood, and Carroll W. Parcher. Services will begin at the rising of the sun, with bugle call by Ira Toll. Singing of Doxology by the assembly. Prayer by Rev. W. E. Smith. Cornet solo by S. R. Adams. Address by Rev. E. W. Pasko. Vocal solo by Mrs. Leonard. Address by John S. McGroarty. Song by assembly.

Boy Scouts will act as guides, and be stationed along the road. Arrangements have been made for autos to convey the people to the summit of Mt. McGroarty, that all who desire to participate in the services, may do so. Arrangements were made for sunrise services last year, but were abandoned on account of the hoof and mouth quarantine. It is hoped and anticipated that this year there will be no drawback, and that a large number of people will assemble at the cross this Easter for sunrise services.

The Kiwanis club of Tujunga boasts of a 100 per cent attendance to the present time, in the international attendance contest now in progress. Every member, so far, has attended either the home luncheon or that of some other club. J. C. Baughtman recently returned from a visit to Kansas, where he was guest at a Hutchinson, Kansas, Kiwanis club luncheon.

At a recent meeting of the Kiwanis club, Dr. L. Lincoln Wirt gave an interesting talk on America First. At the last meeting, J. E. Light of Los Angeles spoke on Underpriviliged Boy Work.

A number of women from the Tujunga P.-T. A. attended the quarterly conference of the First District, at Redondo, Thursday, March 26th. Addresses on Child Welfare and Hygiene were given, and a plea for clean journalism was made. Those attending from Tujunga were: Mesdames Lynch, Reynolds, Greer, Carr, Black, Sullivan, Eichenhofer, Bell, Doane. Over three hundred members representing the various clubs of the district, were present.

The Kiwanis club is doing a fine work for the boys of the community. A band of twenty-five boys has lately been organized, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, who have made arrangements with C. A. Mendenhall to act as instructor and band leader of the boys. Special arrangements have been made with a Los Angeles music house for instruments. Instructions are given Thursday afternoons, and band practice Thursday evening, in the schoolhouse. D. S. Wieman is in charge of the band work for the club, and those wishing to take advantage of the opportunity of this course of instruction, are requested to consult him.

Dr. Pasko is conducting services in the Community church each evening this week, in preparation for the Easter services.

Myers Bros. Hardward Co., won the distinction at the retailers' hardware convention in Los Angeles recently, of being listed as having made the greatest number of sales of the Pacific gas ranges of any dealer of a community of this size.

Herman O'Neil, a native of Delaware, N. Y., died suddenly at his home in Colby drive, Saturday evening, March 23. Mr. Colby had lived in Tujunga about two months. He is survived by his widow and aged mother. Funeral was under the direction of the Golden State Lodge of Moose. Interment in Graceland Cemetery.

Miss Emma Banchero passed away at her home in Marshall street, March 26. Miss Banchero came to Tujunga from Bremerton, Washington, where she was stricken with the white plague just previous to her graduation from the Bremerton, Wash., High school. Miss Banchero was nineteen years of age, and a native of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Thomas & Wescott have sold their grocery at corner of Sunset and Summit streets, to W. J. Jay of Tujunga.

Mr. Samuelson of Haines Canyon road, has sold his home on that street, and has purchased the grocery of Grant & Co., on Monte Vista boulevard, near Haines Canyon road.

ST. MARK'S CHOIR IN EASTER SERVICE

Stainer's 'Crucifixion' To Be Given Friday Night At Church

Preliminary to the services of Easter Sunday, the vested choir of St. Mark's Episcopal church is to give Stainer's "Crucifixion" at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the church, South Louise and East Harvard streets. Mrs. Charles A. Parker is director; Mrs. Joseph Kitt, organist.

Soloists will be Charles Comfort, tenor; Albert M. Draper, bass; T. E. Gaddis, tenor; Milo Sherrick, bass; Mrs. A. M. Draper, contralto.

Order of Service

The order of service will be: prelude, "Nocturne in G Minor" (Chopin); processional, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory"; apostles' creed, evening prayer Stainer's "The Crucifixion," bass solo. "Could Ye Not Watch With Me?"; "Jesus, Lord Jesus"; organ solo, "Processional to Calvary"; chorus "Fling Wide the Gates"; tenor solo, "How Sweet the Grace of His Sacred Face"; chorus, "God So Loved the World"; offertory, contralto solo, "He Was Despised" (Handel); tenor solo, "King Ever Glorious"; bass solo, "And Whosoever Believeth On Him"; tenor and bass duet, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition"; bass recitative, "Is It Nothing to You?"; chorus, "From the Throne of His Cross"; recessional, "Onward Christian Soldiers"; postlude, "Dead March" from "Saul" (Handel).

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, April 9.—La Crescenta Women's club members have made a gift of $100 to the Redwood Grove Memorial fund, being raised by state and district federations for the preservation of Dyerville flats, and have honored their president, Mrs. Marguerite Greene Turck, by designating that one of the giant redwoods in the Dyerville flat grove be dedicated to her and her name placed on the tablet of honor. Presentation of the tree was made at the club meeting yesterday by Mrs. Howard Reynolds, who through her own efforts raised practically the entire $100. In a most heartfelt manner Mrs. Turck responded to the presentation, saying, "I am completed overwhelmed by this honor. I think it a most wonderful thing to have the club be the means of saving one tree, a monument made by God. I am deeply moved to have it in my name."

As club president Mrs. Turck presided over yesterday's meeting At her request Mrs. Charles Collins led the club prayer, which was followed by the flag salute led by Mrs. Alice Singleton, curator of the American citizenship section. The federation song, "America the Beautiful" was sung by the club company with Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald at the piano. Club minutes were read by Mrs. A. B. Cochran, secretary. New members received were Mrs. Joseph M. Harrison of La Crescenta, and Mrs. Winton Greening of Montrose. Mrs. Turck gave an interesting report of attending reciprocity day at Los Angeles Ebell club.

Mrs. N. N. George, chairman of the program committee, introduced her father, Robert Woods Van Kirk, exponent of works of Shakespeare and Browning. Mr. Van Kirk, who was formerly a doctor of divinity in Boston and now living in Pomona, gave dramatic interpretations from Browning's, "The Ring and the Book."

Before presenting the scene of the trial of the young canon Caponsacchi, Mr. Van Kirk gave a comprehensive outline of the story, telling of the flight of the beautiful Pompellia with the noble young priest; of her recapture and the subsequent tragedy that brought the priest to trial.

Forceful, masterly handling of each character in perfect keeping with dramatic situations, coupled with clear diction, made the scene of the trial a living picture with Pompellia's tragic death as a background. Mr. Van Kirk followed from one character to another with such perfect ease that his audience did not realize there was but one person on the stage.

To complete this program Mrs. George presented Mrs. Mary Robson, vocalist, sister of Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald, accompanied by Mrs. MacDonald. Mrs. Robson sang, "Dawn" (Pearl Curran), and "Trees" (words by Joyce Kilmer). Mrs. Turck thanked the artists for the splendid program, asking members for a rising vote of thanks.

The social hour was spent around the tea table, hostesses being Mesdames Blanche Hopkins, Roy Tate and M. MacConnell. Mrs. B. L. Frederick and Mrs. C. Van Lonen of Montrose, poured.

The auditorium was effectively decorated with lilacs and roses. On the president's table were California poppies and blue lupine, the club colors being yellow and blue. The decorating committee includes Mesdames F. I. Kimball, F. T. Pritchard and Louise Erwin, assisted by Mrs. S. V. Phillips, curator of the art section. The next meeting will be for members only and will be devoted to business.

Elect J. W. Usilton

Member City Council

Tuesday, April 14

J. W. Usilton Says, I Stand For:

1. Economy in Government.
2. Full Value for All Public Monies Spent.
3. Bona fide Petition of Request by majority of property owners before making assessments for any manner of public work.
4. Educational Publicity as to Requirements of the Law on All Assessments.
5. I am opposed to retaining in the service of the city any officer or employee who will either directly or indirectly use his position to further the interest of contractors of public work, and that if elected I promise to make a careful survey of this proposition, with a view to breaking up any so-called pools of contractors, all of which will aid greatly in the reduction of special assessments.
6. I am opposed to the method of enforcing traffic laws for the purpose of securing revenue rather than for the safety of the public at large. I am in favor of a reasonable policy that will add to the dignity rather than ridicule the good name of our city.

In conclusion, would state that I am not unmindful of the fact that many of the voters of Glendale are engaged in business or are employed in the city of Los Angeles, and that these voters have received very little consideration in the past. I promise that if elected, I will vote in favor of open meetings to be held in the evening in order to give every voter an opportunity to attend.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Mr. M. E. Plasterer was for nearly ten years in complete charge of the accounting of the Oldsmobile Co. at Los Angeles, first as a factory branch and later, when I took over their business on the Coast, he became secretary and treasurer of the Oldsmobile Co. of California, with complete charge of the very important accounting of both the home office and two branches in a business that ran close to a million dollars per year.

He continued in this capacity as long as I myself was at the head of the business and only left when there was a complete change of ownership.

I cannot recommend him too highly. He is intelligent, conscientious and efficient, has had broad experience in business of unusual size and intricacy and I know of no man whom I would consider better qualified to fill a position that demanded absolute integrity and a detailed knowledge of large scale accounting methods.

NATION WONDERS WHAT IS WRONG

Recent Capital Deaths Set Public Believing Work Is Real Cause

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Are the high government officials in Washington overworked? Every so often, when there is a tragic crack in the human machinery which carries on the work here in the capital, the nation pauses for a moment and wonders what is wrong.

Secretary of War Weeks has been the latest victim and the fact that his ailment is so closely akin to that which disabled Woodrow Wilson for so long a time has lent peculiar interest to his case and to the general situation among other cabinet members, most of whom are beyond sixty years of age, but are still carrying on as if many years younger.

Washington has had a particularly bitter experience since the Wilson break down. That unhappy event seemed to start a chain of tragic occurrences in which no branch of the government has been spared.

Capitol Tragedies

In the senate within the last six months there has been the collapse and demise of Lodge, the leader; the dramatic suicide of Brandagee, of Connecticut, found in his bath room with a gas tube in his mouth; and lastly the sudden death of Medill McCormick of Illinois, found dead in his room at a hotel where he had taken up temporary residence prior to his departure from the Capitol and from public life, victory having deserted him at the primary polls last summer.

Of course the death of President Harding caused much worry throughout the country as to the amount of work imposed upon a chief executive in these modern days. But the country has been reassured so far as President Coolidge is concerned. He will not break down. He is not excitable. He systematizes his work to a greater extent than any member of the cabinet under him. He is the type which needs only occasional and very light exercise.

Mr. Coolidge can stroll a few blocks through the business section of the city in the afternoon rush hour, passing shoulder to shoulder with pedestrian and dodging traffic at the street corners and feel refreshed from the day's effort.

'JIM' PATTEN BACK AS WHEAT LEADER

Famous Character In Pit Of Chicago Jumps In to Save Price Collapse

By O. L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

CHICAGO, April 9.—James A. Patten jumped into the breach to save grain prices from a complete, overwhelming collapse just in time to recoup the routed, broken bulls, and to bring back to himself a leadership in the grain trade he has held, except for minor interruptions, for nearly thirty-five years.

And "Jim" Patten, at 73, grizzled by his unnumbered battles over wheat, and scarred by honest-to-goodness attempts in years gone by to corner grain, is still the real wheat king. Today he had supplanted the pretenders who aspired through this trading season to his old throne, only to be broken.

Broken hope has displaced the gloom which recently has pervaded the board of trade, with knowledge that Patten has taken a hand in the market. For "Jim" Patten steered clear of this year's big bull racket, pulling out last September when wheat touched $1.60. His consistent claim that $2 wheat involved thirty to thirty-five cents of pure speculation, now gives him the prestige to take hold for the bulls to prevent their total rout.

Excesses in speculation of this year, haven't been new to the greatest leader the Chicago board of trade ever developed. He has followed them for forty years and more, from the time "Old Hutch" got a corner back in 1888, and the time Joe Leiter cornered in 1897 to the occasions when he attempted on his own accord in 1909 to round up all the grain, up to the recent fiasco that has broken a new set of leaders.

Through all this history of trading, no man as yet has actually cornered grain and lasted long to tell of it. Benjamin Peter Hutchison, "Old Hutch", came the nearest when he bought up the supply and ran prices from 85 cents to two dollars. But the strain was so terrific that he soon died with but $500,000 remaining of his fortune.

ELECTION IS HELD

HERRIN, Ill., April 9.—The Ku Klux Klan stood victorious today in Herrin's township election. The Klan allied with the "good government league" emerged victorious over a so-called non-partisan ticket supported by Democrats and Klan-opposed Republicans. The city election two weeks ago brought a similar result.

EARLY TOMATOES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Sinaloa district along the west coast of Mexico is now shipping early tomatoes for distribution at the rate of 175 carloads weekly. Prices here range from $1 to $2.75 a crate as received and from $3 to $3.25 as repacked.

HE IS TO GUIDE THE BIG BANDELIER EXPEDITION TO THE HIDING PLACES OF THE INCA GOLD
HE IS AN INVENTOR SCHOLAR AND ENGINEER OF ABILITY CENTRAL PRESS
ALBERTO V ROSELL

NEW YORK, April 9.—The fabled hidden mountain of Inca gold, sought without success by adventurers through the centuries, really exists, it is declared by Alberto V. Rosell, full-blooded descendant of Inca rulers.

He has undertaken to lead an expedition of Englishmen and Americans to the hiding place in Peru.

Rosell, whose Indian name is Inca Tito Cusi Ticcapato, is a graduate of the University of Cuzco, and speaks three languages, including English, fluently.

He declares that he alone of all living descendants of the Incas knows the place through which the mountainous cache of gold and precious stones hidden by Inca rulers at the approach of the Spaniards, can be reached.

Rosell has a reputation as an inventor, scholar and engineer of ability, and is familiar with many of the material secrets of the Incas. One is the ancient method of erecting buildings of wood blocks without the use of nails.

Glendale Federation

Revision of the constitution to meet the needs of the active, rapidly developing organization, and to conform with state and national organizations, was considered yesterday afternoon at the meeting of Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations at Harvard High school. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president, made a special trip from Pacific Palisades, where she has been attending a camp of 480 girls, to preside at the meeting. Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian, presented the revision of the constitution. Final action is to be taken at the annual meeting of the Federation, to be held the first Wednesday in May.

Expressive of the spirit and activity of Glendale Federation, the objects of the organization as stated in the revised constitution are "To establish uniformity in work of the associations represented in its membership, by following the same general plan outlined by state and national for the promotion of child welfare in home, school and community, acting as a central body for help and encouragement for local associations. This organization shall be educational, non-sectarian and non-partisan, no political candidate nor any commercial enterprise shall be endorsed."

Conforming with the constitution of the national organization as to membership in the P.-T. A., the revised constitution says in part, "Membership shall include Parent-Teacher associations and such educational organizations as shall conform to rules of district, state and national."

It is also interesting to note the breadth of scope of the membership of the governing executive committee of the Federation. According to revision plans this committee will include officers elected, presidents or representatives of all Parent-Teacher associations in Glendale, superintendent and assistant superintendent of city schools, superintendent of the high school, principals or representatives of all Glendale schools, a representative of the City Teachers' club, a representative of the High School Teachers' club, presidents of grammar and high school boards, chairman of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle and any state or district officers living in Glendale or vicinity.

Departments are outlined as education, membership, philanthropy, ways and means, patriotism, juvenile protection, publicity, emblem and magazine, recreation, legislation and child labor, thrift, child hygiene, scholarship, program, community life, better films, courtesy, kindergarten.

Some other features of the revision are that it: provides for two vice-presidents and two terms for officers; creates office of financial secretary; provides that the president attend all district meetings; provides that the chairmen of all departments submit plans for the year's work at the beginning of activities in the fall; provides for the holding of not less than three federation meetings during the year.

Glendale P.-T . A. executives and members are now interested in the convention of First District, Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17 in Burdette hall, Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles. Glendale will be the hostess organization on the second day, when election takes place. The state convention will be held the week of May 11 at Fresno. Glendale delegates attending both gatherings will have ribbon badges bearing the name of Glendale. The committee on badges includes Mesdames L. D. Torrey, Arthur Franklin and J. S. Dickerson.

Mrs. Spradling placed emphasis on the announcement that every Glendale association must vote its $5 to the Y. M. C. A. pledge this week. A letter was received from the Glendale post-office employes thanking Glendale Federation for action endorsing the raise in wages for postal employes.

Among those who will serve on the nominations committee for Glendale Federation will be Mesdames H. V. Ellis, Clark Johnson, William Reynard, Grant, Dean Phillips, Berryman, Harry Levy, Lowry, A. H. Brown.

Richardson D. White and Miss Annie L. McIntyre, superintendent and vice superintendent of Glendale city schools were present yesterday at the meeting.

COOLIDGE CABINET INDUSTRIOUS LOT

Members of Official Family Is Not a Dining Out Administration

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The new Coolidge cabinet is probably the most industrious Washington has ever known, but there has been no complaint from its members that they are overtasked or overworked. A commentator on Washington life recently remarked that the men in high government places often wasted entirely too much energy in attending unnecessary public dinners. This can hardly be said of the Coolidge cabinet. It is not a dining-out administration and there actually is no evidence of strain from that direction, physically or gastronomically.

Mr. Hoover is probably the most sought of the after-dinner speakers in the cabinet, but he is more or less innured to that sort of thing due to the long training he had in Europe.

And really there is no tangible evidence, that too many and too good dinners have spoiled the statesmen of the country.

Great Diners-Out

Some of the greatest of the diners-out have lived to the ripest old age. There is Chauncey Depew, for instance, a man who scarcely ever missed a banquet in all his life; and Dr. Eliot, of Harvard. There is, too, Chief Justice Taft. Mr. Taft, when president, attended banquets almost nightly. On his long swings through the country he often attended gala luncheons and dinners for eight or ten weeks in a row, with occasional gala breakfasts thrown in.

Dr. Schurman, the new ambassador to Germany, although past his three score years and ten, has an enviable reputation in the Orient as the dining diplomat. It may be that after-dinner speeches are calculated to wear a person out but it has been proved beyond the usual peradventure of a doubt that he who eats and runs away lives very nicely to dine another day.

A miniature funeral boat 4300 years old, found in egypt, was sold in London recently.

THE MacBAIN FOR COUNCIL CLUB

FIRE EQUIPMENT ABOVE STANDARD

Engines Prove Worth Under Severe Tests Here By Underwriters

Equipment of the Glendale fire department is above the required standard, tests of the engines, pumps and hose conducted at the Verdugo Canyon reservoir by expert engineers employed by the National Fire Underwriters of America proved today.

Tomorrow engineers will resume work on the fire department records, while others conduct inspections of fire hazards in the down-town sections. The investigation is under the supervision of the national organization and is being made at the invitation of the City Council.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

WHEREAS, The Homecrafts Corporation, a corporation, by a Deed of Trust dated October 10, 1924, and recorded October 20, 1924, in Book 4296, Page 97 of Official Records, in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, California, did grant and convey the premises therein and hereinafter described to the Security Trust & Savings Bank, as Trustee, to secure among other things the payment of a promissory note made by the said Homecrafts Corporation dated October 10, 1924, for $3,500.00, payable in monthly installments of $50.00 or more each, on the first day of each and every month beginning December 1, 1924 with interest from date on the amounts of principal remaining from time to time unpaid, until said principal sum is paid, at the rate of seven per cent (7) per annum, payable monthly, to the order of Herman C. Riehl and Jennie S. Riehl his wife, as joint tenants; and

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note, and a breach has been made in the obligation for which said Deed of Trust is a security, in this, that default has been made under the terms of said note and Deed of Trust, in that the installment of principal and interest due on said note, to-wit: $50.00 due and payable December 1, 1924, was not paid when due; that said principal sum and interest thereon from October 20, 1924 is owing and unpaid; and

WHEREAS, said Deed of Trust provides that if default be made in the payment of any of the sums of principal and interest when due, the owner and holder of said note may declare the whole of the principal and interest thereof immediately due and payable and require the said Trustee to sell the property thereby granted; and

WHEREAS, the said Herman C. Riehl and Jennie S. Riehl, have declared that default has been made as aforesaid and have declared the whole of said principal sum and interest now due and payable and have demanded that said Trustee shall sell the premises granted by said Deed of Trust to accomplish the objects of the trust therein expressed; and

WHEREAS, said Herman C. Riehl and Jennie S. Riehl being the holders of said note under said Deed of Trust, did record in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Los Angeles, California, a notice of said breach, and of their election to cause to be sold said property to satisfy said obligation, which said notice was recorded on December 27, 1924 in Book 4272, Page 390 of Official Records of said County.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that the undersigned by virtue of the authority in it vested, as Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in United States gold coin, on Monday, the fourth day of May, 1925, at the hour of eleven o'clock A. M. of said day in the lobby of the Security Trust & Savings Bank Building, 510 South Spring Street, in the City of Los Angeles, California, the interest conveyed to it by the aforesaid Deed of Trust in and to the real property therein described situate in the City of Los Angeles, California, described as follows:—

Lot Two (2) of Tract 491, as per map recorded in Book 15, Page 75 of Maps, Los Angeles County Records.

To pay the whole principal sum of said note, to-wit:— the sum of $3,500.00 and interest thereon from the 20th day of October, 1924, at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, sums, if any, advanced under the provisions of said Deed of Trust, the expenses of said sale; and the expenses of said trust in the sum of $200.00. Terms of sale, cash in United States gold coin.

Dated, April 8, 1925.

Herriot Puts Blame For Financial Chaos of 149,000,000,000 francs; secondly, short term loans of 37,000,000,000 francs; thirdly, a floating debt of 91,000,000 francs."

Herriot then read statistics to show that the national government between 1920 and 1924 constantly borrowed from the Bank of France beyond the legal limit.

Promises Action

"I will puncture this financial bubble," he went on. "The French public has nothing to fear, either now or in the future, if the government takes the necessary measures."

"With the aid of the Morgan and the internal loans I reimbursed the Bank of France 1,200,000,000 francs since November, 1924," Herriot said.

"I handed over the entire Morgan loan to the Bank of France, showing that I placed the interest of my country over the interests of my party and my government. I could have manipulated the Morgan loan so as to produce one of those artificial balances we all know."

DELAY 'TYPHOID' CASE

CHICAGO, April 9.—More court delay was encountered today when an order continuing the formal arraignment of William D. Shepherd on the indictment charging him with murder of William Nelson McClintock until next Thursday was handed down in criminal court.

RESENT VISIT OF BRITISH OFFICER

Demonstrations Continued Against Lord Balfour By Hostile Arabs

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 9.—While a tight guard over the British dignitary was maintained by Syrian police, demonstrations against Lord Balfour were resumed at noon today.

Balfour remained in his hotel. His visit to Palestine aroused Arabian resentment, which always has run high against his policy of Jewish colonization in Zion.

A hostile crowd gathered in the street early this morning. Hotel attaches closed the shutters and switched off the lights in Balfour's room, but the crowd started hurling stones toward the balcony outside his room. One of the crowd was injured when police dispersed them. Many were arrested.

Big Boulevard Project Comes Before Council

tion No. 8 of the outfall sewer were received by the council and referred to the city engineer and city manager for checking and report next Thursday. The bids ranged from $58,900 on each of the two portions of the section to $71,450 for part 1 and $66,000 for part 2 of the section. Kulzak & Betak were low bidders.

Petition Is Denied

Petition to remove Louise street from Doran street to the wash from a first class district to a residential district was denied by the council. Property owners who desired to construct a small house on the rear of their lots were signers of the petition, it was pointed out. Under the zoning ordinance only one house can be built on each lot in a first class district while in an ordinary residential district any number of houses may be constructed.

A petition to place Western avenue from Flower street to Lake street in the commercial district was deferred until next Thursday for action. A petition to place Sonora and Kenneth road in the commercial district was denied upon recommendation of the planning commission.

Widening of Pacific avenue from Glenoaks boulevard to Kenneth road an additional ten feet was recommended to the council by the planning commission. A petition for the widening from Glenoaks boulevard to Glenwood drive was submitted by property owners and referred to the city engineer for investigation.

North Adams place was changed by the council today to Doran street upon the petition of property owners. Resolutions adopting the diagrams of Cypress street, Verd Oaks, Bruce avenue, Ruberta avenue, Harvey drive and Verdugo Canyon road were passed.

Stamp Hunters Meet In L. A. During August

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—There are hunters who worship at the shrine of the mighty Nimrod—and other hunters. The stamp hunters will visit Los Angeles next August, according to an announcement received here from Dr. A. H. Davis of Denver, Colo., who says the American Philatelic society will invade the city for its annual gathering this summer, five hundred strong.

Coincident with the announcement of the gathering of stamp collectors, it was announced that the national convention of the Delta Sigma fraternity will be held here June 25, 26 and 27, according to advices received from eastern headquarters of the society.

'Brides' Class' Enrolls For Course In Nursing

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 9.—Forty-four young women won't be caught wondering whether a mustard plaster or a hot bath for hubby's feet is the specific thing when he gets sick.

This number is enrolled in the home nursing course at the College for Women of Western Reserve university. Sometimes it is called the "bride's course."

They learn all about clothing babies properly, caring for the sick, making beds, methods of relieving fatigue, medicines, reading thermometers and making mustard paste, ice compresses and poultices.

In all their experiments they use a dummy. So there is no fatality when beef steak and chocolate pie is fed to patients sufferinw with indigestion.

Hungary Issues Unique Sporting Postal Stamp

VIENNA, April 9.—A unique series of postage stamps portraying sporting events will be issued throughout Hungary shortly to be sold in aid of sporting charities.

The stamps will be available for ordinary mail, but will cost an extra premium of double their value. The designs are varied, and give spirited miniatures of skiing, skating, swimming, fencing, scouting, soccer and hurdling.

FILMS SHOWN AND TAKEN AT LUNCH

Pictures of Air Rodeo Are Exhibited at Meeting Of C. C. Club

Talks in behalf of a greater membership for the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and exhibition of moving pictures of the recent air rodeo at Glendale Airport, featured today's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club at the Masonic temple.

Dr. T. C. Young, membership chairman of the chamber, and the man who organized and staged the aviation meet, presided at today's meeting, calling upon William L. Truitt, R. E. Johnston, James M. Rhoades, C. E. Kimlin, Harry G. MacBain, L. E. Olser and C. R. Lusby and D. H. Smith, who talked on the forthcoming membership drive from April 20 to 25.

After Dr. Young had shown 300 feet of film of the aviation meet, seventy-five members of the chamber who attended the luncheon, headed by members of the City Council and chamber directors, passed before the clicking camera as they left the Masonic temple. The film taken today will be used to complete the air rodeo reel and will be shown before many chambers of commerce and aviation clubs of Southern California. Later the cameraman went to the Chamber of Commerce offices, where additional moving pictures of chamber activities were taken.

MORE ECONOMY, COOLIDGE'S PLAN

President Orders Survey Of Offices And Bureaus To Cut Expenses

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In the furtherance of his economy program, President Coolidge has ordered a survey of all the independent offices and bureaus of the government, numbering more than forty, to ascertain whether some of them cannot be eliminated entirely, and others merged into the ten general governmental departments, it was learned today.

A dozen of these small bureaus, created during war time are said to be slated to pass out of existence, either by executive order or by act of Congress, if there is any doubt of the president's authority to discontinue.

ACTRESS' ARREST AFTER FLOGGING

Woman Charged With Horse Whipping Sunday School Leader

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—A warrant was issued this afternoon for the arrest of Mrs. George H. Day, actress wife of a San Pedro police sergeant and declared to be a former Ziegfeld Follies beauty for the alleged horse-whipping of Ralph Phelps, a garage foreman.

Phelps was soundly flogged yesterday by Mrs. Day. She said she sought revenge for derogatory remarks she charged Phelps, who is a Sunday school teacher had made against her.

Mrs. Stillman Denies Reconciliation Looms

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 9.—The Stillmans—Fifi and James A.—are not ready to kiss and make up. They are mad and they are going to stay mad. At least that is the way Mrs. Stillman sees it. Passing through Kansas City today with her son Alex, Mrs. Stillman said it was not likely she would receive peace overtures with open arms, she said.

"What do people think I am?" she asked. "A mid-Victorian? I am not the kind who fights and runs away, or who desires to kiss and make up before the fight is ended. I am going to see this think through."

Boys Are Taken On Fruit Theft Charge

Five boys, all under 18 years of age, were arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Munn and Larson, after E. E. Dow, 3169 Glendale boulevard, had complained that they were stealing oranges from his fruit stand at Colorado and Porter streets. Most of the youths reside in Los Angeles and were driving a Los Angeles car when arrested. After a lecture delivered at police headquarters here they were released.

PAY HONORS TO NAVY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The navy still rules San Francisco. Men and officers of the 45,000 complement manning the gigantic armada of 145 war vessels on a ten-day visit to this port continued being the guests of the city at numerous receptions and entertainments in their honor.

An exposition at Vigo, Spain, exhibits photograps of commodities intended for sale.

ROTARIANS HOLD SCHOOL SESSION

Members Answer Questions Regarding Ideals of Club at Meeting

Rotarians went to "school" today at the meeting held at the Tuesday Afternoon club, when Owen Emery called upon various members of the club to explain the various objects and ideals of the organization. President J. Herbert Smith, who presided, officiated as "principal" and punished unwilling "students." Appropriate prizes were awarded.

W. G. Lauderdale invited the Rotarians to the open forum meeting on April 16, sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Richardson D. White spoke on "The Eisteddfod," and Owen Emery drilled the members in a song to be sung by the club at the Eisteddfod. George Karr reported on the Burbank meeting Tuesday night. George Bentley, George Karr and Paul Stillman were named members of the international convention committee. Secretary Rene Olin spoke on attendance.

Visiting Rotarians presented were: Charles A. Gunn, Shanghai, China; Joe Allyn, Delavan, Wis.; H. Wentworth, Russell, Kan.; Lee O. Kucker, Inglewood; Leonard Collins, Burbank; William Blackman, Sam H. Harris, Ed Merrell, O. G. Wildey and Malcolm Campbell, all of Los Angeles.

'ROYAL' STUDENT WASHES DISHES

Descendant of Napoleon Has Own Troubles Getting Harvard Finish

BOSTON, April 9.—His sires exerted their sway over the Byzantine Empire. Their daughters married into the royal families of Europe and Asia Minor. One of the sires was the grandfather of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Fate certainly intended him to wear a crown, but fortune compels Cyrus D. Comninos, Boston university student, to work in a lowly garage.

To his classmates he is known as "Cy." And he is decidedly popular with the fair co-eds. In turn, he thinks the American college girl the "most delightful creature in all the world."

"Cy" started out to emulate his famous Corsican kin. He was thrice wounded in the World war. Later he was a spy with the Turkish army and barely escaped with his life.

Washes Dishes

Then he came to America—to Columbia university, New York. To pay his way through college he got a job—washing dishes at the Hotel Biltmore. He was "fired" as incompetent, he says. Next he came to Boston, bent on obtaining a medical education.

In this "Athens of America" Cyrus cast aside whatever aristocratic pride he ever inherited. He has sold candy in subways, clerked in a drug store and served as a private tutor to Harvard university students. And, remember, across the seas he had been accustomed to tutors of his own.

Finally, fate led him to the grease pit of a garage, but his courage is good; and a Comninos may yet write his name in the medical history of the world.

Double-Deck Busses Popular In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Increasing patronage on lines of the Los Angeles railway in which the new double-deck busses are in use, has made necessary the ordering of additional equipment of this type, four more to be placed in service by April 15. Officials of the railway state that their system is the first on the continent to employ six-wheel double-deck type busses.

Coincident to the announcement of increasing their equipment, the railway states that more people rode on street cars during the year 1924 than in any previous time in the company's history, the total number reaching 345,749,688 passengers. During the same year, street cars covered 33,089,168.60 miles or an increase of nearly two-million miles over 1923.

'Daily Dozen' Advised If Shaving Neglected

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 9.—If you cannot find time for exercise any other way, grow whiskers and use your shaving time for the daily dozen.

This was the advice of Dr. James H. McCurdy, professor of physical education at the international Y. M. C. A. college, given as a warning to men against lack of exercise.

"Divide your day into six parts," advocated Dr. McCurdy. "That will give you eight hours for sleep, seven or eight hours for work, two hours for eating, one hour for your hobby, ten minutes for exercise and five hours for recreation," he continued.

GIVEN APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Coolidge today appointed Frederick C. Hickes, ex-member of Congress from Port Washington, Long Island, as alien property custodian, succeeding Colonel Thomas W. Miller, resigned.

MARKET SUMMARY

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—The next regular meeting of the Los Angeles Bank Credit Men's association will be held at the Alexandria hotel tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, it was announced today. W. H. Thompson, vice-president of the First National bank of Los Angeles will give a talk on "Warehouse Receipts and Trust Receipts."

Only the United States is rich enough to afford a republican form of government, in the belief of F. H. Neuerboung, manager of the foreign department of the Commerz Und Privat bank of Berlin who is at the Biltmore hotel today. Because of economic necessity Germany may be forced back to a monarch form of government, he said. His bank has 320 branches. He is now touring America explaining his side of Europe's problem and making new connections for German business.

Dr. Walter H. Weed, internationally known mining engineer, is in Los Angeles accompanied by George Shurtleff and John Thomas Loche of New York. Dr. Wood is scheduled to make an exhaustive examination and report on the property of the Kay Copper corporation north of Phoenix, Ariz.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, April 9.—Stocks lost ground in a dull and irregular market today. There were a few exceptions to the rule, principally in the industrial and oil shares. But with action on the Maxwell dividend postponement until after the close of the market and the sale of Dodge Brothers' stock completed, the "edge" was off the motor shares for the time being, and traders were more inclined to take profits than to add to their commitments.

The fact that the stock markets are closed tomorrow and many of the speculative markets until next Monday detracted considerably from buying interest in pivotal stocks. Bearish traders were therefore in a good positon to launch ther drive against some of the stocks which yielded most easily in past market movements. Selecting the railroad shares, they sold Pennsylvania Railroad down to 42¾, a new low for this year. Wabash "A" lost nearly 2 points, Northern Pacific 1½. Reading and other active rails were fractionally lower.

Stocks were not easily dislodged from their current price levels, and after losing the gains acquired on Tuesday and Wednesday, most of the stocks refused to decline further. The heavy oversubscription of Dodge Brothers' preference 7 per cent stock, with a bonus of common stock, led to spirited bidding for that stock on the floor of the exchange at from 1 to 3 points above the offering price. Wall street was full of rumors as to the probable action of the Maxwell directors, but it was stated that official publication would not be made until after the market closed.

Meanwhile the stock was active and strong, the preferred touching 99. Other motor stocks were reactionary.

Selling of the rail stocks failed to cause any general reactionary trend in the industrials and market specialties. General Electric gained further ground on active buying later in the day. Postum Cereal jumped 6 points, to a new high at 113; utility stocks commanded higher values as the session progresssed, with good trading in the stocks of the electric and gas lighting companies.

Oils were unusually inactive, and only a few of the western oils, like General Petroleum and California Petroleum, entered the active lists. Proft-taking in Marland, Mid-Continent and Phillips Petroleum accounted for losses of a point or more. Another gain on weekly production of crude oil was more than counterbalanced by the firming up of the refined oil market and the outlook for heavy consumption of gasoline in the next six or seven months.

ARCTIC AIR FLIGHT PERILS DISCLOSED

Rasmussen Says Landing Possibilities Will be Only Drawback

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, April 9.—Polar ice peaks and water hidden under Arctic snow sheets are the only things which are likely to bring grief to Donald B. MacMillan and Captain Roald Amundsen, when they attempt their polar expedition by air this summer. So says Dr. Knud Rasmussen, Danish Arctic explorer, who is now in New York.

Infinite are the possibilities for discoveries when rapid airplanes scout the unknown regions, Dr. Rasmussen says. Soaring over everything, their pilots can look down, take stock and get a birds-eye view of what is what that will be of invaluable help to them in exploring and making maps. Travel by ship or dog sled could never offer such opportunities.

The landing proposition—that is the one big obstacle.

Rasmussen's Opinion

"When I first read that Captain Amundsen and Mr. MacMillian were going to try to travel the north by airplane I was thrilled," Dr. Rasmussen told the writer. "Unlimited by time or space—practically—there is nothing they should not be able to do—provided they do not have landing trouble.

"So often airplanes are forced to land, and one cannot be sure of level land or unruffled sea in the northland. There is likely to be a ragged jut of ice just beneath them which it would be difficult to avoid. And even chosen landing spots are so likely to be treacherous. the snow-covered fields may appear smooth when looked on from the air—but under their gleaming surface may lie any kind of open water or uneven ice peaks."

COL. STEWART BIG INFLUENCE IN OIL

Man Who Swung Doheny Deal For Standard Was Country Lawyer

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, April 9.—The big figure in the oil deal is a big man—almost big enough to rank with the giants of the Coolidge cabinet. There are all sorts of varying reports down in Wall street as to the meaning and extent of the vast transaction whereby Edward L. Doheny, storm center of the oil scandal in Washington a year ago, sold out all of his Mexican and South American holdings to a syndicate headed by Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil of Indiana. But there is general agreement as to who engineered the deal. It was Bob Stewart of the Standard of Indiana, already rated as the greatest producer and seller of gasoline in all the world.

Col. Stewart is a man of massive physique. He is big enough to play center rush against attorney general "Gary" Sargent, who stands either six feet six or six feet three—there is a discrepancy of three inches in the report of the surveyors. And Col. Stewart was a football player in his college days, too, though it is not recorded that he ever fell on a football and exploded it.

Col. "Bob" Stewart is an interesting figure because he represents among other things a new trend. He is the lawyer in industry. One hears much from time to time of the oil driller or rigger or prospector who comes to head a great petroleum combine.

No Experience

But Bob Stewart, up to the time he became the head of the colossal Standard Oil of Indiana, had never had a day of practical oil experience. Modern industry is becoming more and more complicated. It is coming to have more and more dealings with courts and governments and the lawyer who can steer the craft clear of all legal reefs and rocks, has the chance at last to become more than a mere adviser. The highest of the executive positions are open to him.

Col. Bob went with the Standard of Indiana as general counsel. He was imported from South Dakota to Chicago for the job. That was as recent as 1915. Three years later the lawyer from the plains was made chairman of the board. Now ordinarily the chairman of the board of a big corporation is a man grown old in the service and promoted from the presidency out of active work.

Solid Tire Trucks May Be Ruled From Orange

ORANGE, Cal., April 9.—The City Council here has thrown a bomb into the ranks of solid tire truck users, by proposing an ordinance that will virtually rule such trucks off the streets of this city. Councilmen apparently are agreed that the ordinance will pass without opposition. It is asserted that trucks with solid tires are breaking up the pavement laid at heavy cost to the taxpayers. Truck owners are preparing to fight the proposed ordinance.

Druggist's Fair Sized Breakfast Costs $2.25

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 9.—When is $2.25 worth of food not a full meal but merely an appetizer in a restaurant where reasonable prices prevail?

Dr. J. N. Foster, druggist, recently entered the S. B. Richards restaurant here and ordered, at a cost of $2.25, the following breakfast: Half a dozen eggs, two orders of sausage, three orders of ham, fifteen hot cakes, one orange and seven cups of coffee.

ADVOCATES ELEVATED TRACKS IN ATWATER

Charles T. Wardlaw, Candidate for L. A. City Council, Has Unique Plan to Relieve Traffic Congestion

A plan for elevating the Pacific Electric railway tracks on the Los Angeles-Glendale line is advanced by Charles T. Wardlaw of Van Nuys, now seeking election to the Los Angeles City Council from the First district. Mr. Wardlaw would particularly urge the elevation of the tracks in the Atwater district, where the narrow boulevard is rendered more hazardous by the gaping Pacific Electric right-of-way with double-tracking and curbs running down the middle of the thoroughfare.

Glendale boulevard, one of the natural main arteries of travel out of Los Angeles, will become more and more congested as traffic increases, he said. To afford a wider and safer boulevard and at the same time to permit more rapid transit over the electric line between Los Angeles and Glendale with the greatest safety, Mr. Wardlaw urges his plan to elevate the tracks.

The elevated railway could be made a highly attractive and ornamental improvement by employing the single-support system with noiseless concrete roadbeds, he said. The city of Los Angeles could condemn and buy at a fair price the present Pacific Electric right-of-way along Glendale boulevard. Although the cost would be large, Mr. Wardlaw advocates elevation of the tracks in preference to any attempt to lower the grade of the present tracks to a level with the pavement, which he declares would be a useless expenditure of money that could go toward the cost of elevating the line.

Change Bledsoe Date

Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, candidate for mayor of Los Angeles will not be able to speak at the meeting of the Atwater Improvement association Monday night, he informed Paul E. Lipscomb, secretary, yesterday. A second invitation to speak before the association at the meeting on April 27 was also declined by Judge Bledsoe.

Residents of Atwater Park will have an opportunity to hear Judge Bledsoe speak, however, at a Bledsoe rally and mass meeting at the Atwater Grammar school on Thursday night, April 23. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Bledsoe Campaign committee.

Masons Meet On Friday

Atwater Masons will meet for the first time at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of Brand boulevard and Park avenue, Friday night, when they will hold open house for all Masons of the Atwater district and officers of all lodges in the San Fernando valley. A special entertainment program is being arranged to fittingly observe the acquisition of the new lodge quarters which will be used by the Atwater Masons until their proposed home on Glendale boulevard becomes a reality. Fred H. Chapman, master, will preside at the meeting.

Improvements Are Planned

Extensive improvements and alterations at the Arthur M. Gilman building at 3218 Glendale boulevard were announced by Mr. Gilman yesterday. The store space now occupied by the Super-o Paint Co. will be taken over and added to the real estate office operated by Mr. Gilman. Stock of the paint concern, also owned by Mr. Gilman, will be taken to his two other stores in Los Angeles. The entire store room will be remodeled and refurnished as a real estate office, Mr. Gilman said. The work will be started immediately. Expansion has been necessitated by the brisk realty business during the past four months, Mr. Gilman said. His office will extend its operations in the Atwater Park field, he continued.

BURGLARS ROB PASTOR

SANTA ANA, April 9.—The home of Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was burglarized while he was conducting regular services at the church. Clothing and silverware worth $500 was stolen. Entrance was gained through the front door which was not locked, and the entire building was thoroughly ransacked.

POLICE UNIFORM CHANGE

VAN NUYS, April 9.—On May 1 all police of the Van Nuys and San Fernando valley division will discard long trousers for knickerish-looking pants, to be worn with highly-polished puttees such as officers wore during the World War. The request to change from the long trousers costume has been granted by Capt. Oakley after a conference with Los Angeles headquarters. Police will discard their blue winter uniforms for the summer garments of olive drab. The policemen asked for the change from long trousers asserting they would have freer movement of the legs and feet if wearing breeches and puttees.

VOICE COSTS HIM MONEY

PASADENA, April 9.—W. K. Fisher of San Gabriel possesses a novel voice. As a grand opera performer he, no doubt, would be a success, but in Judge Frank Dunham's police court his voice cost him just $10. Fisher can imitate a police siren perfectly. For some time he has been fooling traffic policemen as he drove his light car down the street emitting siren-like screeches. At each corner he would be given the right of way. Fisher met his Waterloo when two motorcycle officers, hearing the "siren," believed that a fire engine was on its way to a blaze so they followed and Fisher was arrested.

ADOPT POLICE PENSION

SANTA BARBARA, April 9.—The Santa Barbara City Council has adopted an ordinance providing pensions for veteran police officers and firemen. The ordinance which passed its first reading by unanimous vote, is patterned after the Los Angeles city ordinance retiring an officer after thirty years' service at two-thirds pay and after twenty years' service at half pay.

DIVERS TO OPEN SEWERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 9.—That the outfall sewer in Huntington Beach can be repaired successfully is the opinion of Henderson company divers, who have spent the last sixteen days making under-water examinations of the line. The divers have discovered under the ocean bed two breaks which must be repaired. A second method of repair which is also being considered is that of attaching a "goose neck" or huge crooked pipe which will discharge sewage into the ocean without becoming clogged with sand.

Smiths Lead All Other Names In City Census

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—With the Smith clan leading the race and the Johnsons nosing out the famous Brown family for second place, the new city directory for this city made its appearance this week with a new surprise population estimate of 1,195,344. Foods, drinks, flowers and colors are all represented in large numbers and the first prize for the shortest name goes to Alex Ek, a huckster, with the prize for the longest name being awarded to the pastor of the Greek Orthodox church, Rev. Callistos Papogeorgopoulos. And there's a word for your crossword puzzles, by the way.

Wife Marries Another To Oblige Her Hubby

BRIGHTON, Eng., April 9.—After eighteen years of married life, Beatrice Ellen Allman, aged 37, left her husband to accept a marriage proposal from another man, because she wanted to lighten the financial burden of the legal husband. She is being tried in the high court for bigamy.

IRISH AIR LINE

BELFAST, April 9.—North Ireland is soon to have airplane mail and passenger service. An early morning plane will leave Carlisle every day for Londonderry, stopping en route at Belfast and returning by the same route every evening. The distance of the round trip will be approximately 200 miles.

DILLON STARTLES FINANCIAL CROWD

Little Known Of Man Who Beats Morgan Firm to Dodge Auto Deal

By CHARLES A. WOLCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, April 9.—There is no man in Wall Street who has been more under discussion during the last week than Clarence Dillon and also apparently there is no man Wall Street knows so little about. It is not so much that he has just negotiated the biggest automobile deal ever made that has made Mr. Dillon the center of interest in the financial district as that he "put it over" the great house of Morgan & Co. in doing it.

After scouting about for days in an effort to locate some one who knew something about the personal side of the man, the writer finally succeeded in talking to one who knows more about Mr. Dillon than anybody in the world—Mr. Dillon himself. His business associates said it couldn't be done, that Mr. Dillon wouldn't talk to newspaper men about anything and that he certainly wouldn't talk to anybody about himself. But they were wrong. Mr. Dillon did talk and he talked about himself although he didn't give the interviewer very much information.

"What is there to tell?" he began. "There is no romance about my career. I did not start life as a poor boy, so if you are trying to draw the picture I suppose you are, there is no story. My parents were not exactly wealthy but they were in comfortable circumstances and I had the same advantages and opportunities which thousands of other American boys have."

Born in Texas

On the subject of his early life Mr. Dillon had little to say. In fact, he sketches his entire career to date in much fewer words than the average congressman would require to outline his biography for the congressional directory.

"I was born in San Antonio, Texas, in 1882, and when my parents went to California later on," said Mr. Dillon, "I entered school in Massachusetts. From there I went to Harvard and when I had finished college I went to live in Milwaukee. I spent two years studying abroad and returned to Milwaukee to engage in the manufacture of machinery.

"There I married Anne Douglas and we have two children. In 1914 I sold my interest in the machinery business and came with what was then the firm of William A. Read & Co. In 1916, upon the death of Mr. Read I became the head of the firm. When the U. S. entered the war I went to Washington as assistant to the chief of the war industries board. Upon conclusion of my duties there, I returned to New York and resumed my duties with this firm. What I have done since is quite generally known."

That was all Mr. Dillon would say about himself, although he was courteous enough in his refusal to go into detail.

"You will have a better story," he explained, "when a formal announcement is made of the details of our financing plan in the Dodge deal. The terms will be made known shortly. Until then our firm will have nothing to say about the matter."

So that was that.

NEW ENGLAND IS PUZZLE TO RADIO

New York Straightened Out When Neighbors Get Wave-Lengthitis

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Having effected at least a temporary solution of the New York City broadcasting program, the department of commerce is confronted with a new outbreak of the "wave lengthitis" epidemic, this time in New England.

According to its established method of treatment in other localities the department has suggested that the stations involved first write their own prescriptions. If this proves ineffective, it is possible that another remedy may be provided by the radio diagnosticians at the capitol.

About the only New England station that is fully content with its lot is WBZ, Springfield. WNAC Boston and WJAR Providence, have inquired as to the possibility of changing their wave lengths to more desirable locations and the CT Sherer plant, at Worcester, is particularly desirous of moving up with the class B broadcasters.

New England Bad

According to the files in which in the radio section of the department of commerce places its interference complaints, the etheral congestion in New England is perhaps worse than in any other section of the country. As a further indication of the popularity of radio in the north eastern states is noted the fact that of the thirty-seven stations which turned in their licenses during February, none was in New England.

As the first step towards quieting the air, particularly around Boston and Providence, and satisfying as far as possible, the requests the class B. stations, it is planned to hold a conference of all of the New England district station owners at an early date. Radio supervisor Charles G. Kolster, at Boston, will represent the government at the meeting.
